SUPERIOR P. O. ROBBED OF $75,000 IN STAMPS

5 BANDITS

PLAY ROBIN

HOOD ACT

FORCE ASSISTANT POSTMASTER TO DIVULGE COMBINATION OF SAFE

EVERY DETAIL OF THEFT WORK-ED OUT IN ADVANCE, AUTH-ORITIES SAY

Superior, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—
In modern Robin Hood style, five bandits robbed the Superior postoffice of $75,000 worth of stamps and $125 in cash today.

They robbed Assistant Postmaster
C. J. McGill of his keys, forced him to divulge the combination of the postoffice safe and robbed it.

Every detail of this daring piece of banditry had been worked out in advance and sheriff's deputies said they thought it looked like an inside job. Postmaster F. S. Thompson, however, is confident it was not.

Just as McGill and members of his family were about to retire a man rang the door bell. McGill answered. The man brushed past him and in an excited manner inquired:

"Where is the young man?"
McGill was shoved into a chair.

He did not answer.
"I know where he is. He's upstairs shaving," the man challenged.

Just then four masked men followed the intruder into the room.
McGill attempted to rise and was told to remain quiet.

"We're here on business," said the leader of the gang as he donned a mask.

Two of the bandits went upstairs and returned with Leon McGill, 30, and Emmet McGill, 25. They were ordered into the living room.

McGill and his two sons were bound. Irene McGill, 32, and Miss Irene Olson, a high school girl, were ordered to sit quietly on a davenport. The men ranged themselves about the room and inquired for Mrs. McGill, who, with another daughter, is vacationing in New Mexico.

All of the men seemed fairly well educated, McGill said today, and all were well dressed. They did not divulge their intentions for a time.
Then they requested McGill to turn over his keys to the post office.

After parrying their demands Mc-Gill gave up the keys. He was then threatened dramatically as the bandits tried to force him to divulge the combination of the post office safe. Finally his daughter was threatened. Alarmed, McGill revealed the combination and one of the bandits wrote it down triumphantly.

After five hours of wearying conversation, all but one of the bandits left. The terrified group heard them drive away in a car. One man remained with guns in his lap watching every movement of the family.

The bandits used a pass key to enter the basement of the post office.
They awaited the night watchman there, Ambrose Sherman, 35. As Sherman entered the furnace room at 2 A. M. they pounced on him, bound and gagged him.

Sherman was taken upstairs and hurled on a pile of mail sacks. Then the bandits entered the vault, worked the combination and rifled the safe. That done they wired Sherman inside the vault and closed the door. He was a prisoner there until 4:40 A. M.

About 3:30 A. M. the four bandits returned to the McGill home and picked up their companion. Fifteen minutes later sheriff's deputies took up a cold trail. No one had seen the car the bandits used.

One bandit left an overcoat at the post office which comprises the only clue to their identity.

MINOT WELCOMES JUNIOR LIVESTOCK EXHIBITS TRAIN

Minot, N. D., Nov. 21.—(UP)—What is thought to be the largest crowd to inspect prize winning junior livestock exhibits since the show at St. Paul turned out here last night to greet the special train touring the northwest.

Mayor J. H. Bratberg gave the official welcome. The exhibitors were entertained with a motor trip through the city and a banquet at the Young Men's Christian association in the evening.

"Monster of Night" Strikes Down Seven Women

FLIES 170 MILES IN 80 MINUTES TO APPEAR FOR
COL. MITCHELL AT TRIAL

Summoned to appear in Washington before the Mitchell court martial to testify for Col. William Mitchell, Lieut. D. Duke of the Army Air Service flew to the national capital from Uniontown, Pa., in one hour and twenty minutes.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL FOR QUEEN MOTHER

PRIVATE SERVICE HELD THIS MORNING AT DEATH BED OF QUEEN

TO BE LAID AT REST IN ST.
GEORGE'S CHAPEL, WIND-SOR CASTLE

By CLIFFORD E. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, Nov. 21.—The most impressive funeral England has known since the death of King Edward in 1910, is planned for his widow, the Queen Mother Alexandra, who died yesterday.

The funeral services will be held Friday.

The Lord Chamberlain went today to Sandringham where the royal family keeps watch over its dead, to receive from King George the royal commands as to arrangements for the services.

A private service was held this morning at the death bed of the queen in Sandringham, with only the royal family present.

Queen Alexandra, mourned where-ever the Union Jack waves, will probably be laid at rest in St.
George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, near King Edward, in the vaults where eight of England's kings repose.

It was her oft expressed wish that she be buried in this regal company of the dead.

It is likely that her body will pass along the same route that King Edward's did and that she will lie in state in London, probably in Westminster Abbey.

Britain will be in official mourning for three months for the aged dowager queen.

Denmark, first home of the "Sea
King's Daughter From Over the Seas," joined Britain and the Danish king ordered his court to go into mourning for four weeks.

Willmar, Minn., Nov. 21.—(UP)—
One person has been killed and seven others injured in railroad crossing accidents near here in the past week.

J. Vandernieck was killed at Garretson, N. D., by train No. 32 when the automobile he was driving was struck. A companion was seriously injured.

Nick Dullinger was struck by a freight train at Roscoe. Three persons with him escaped serious injury.

Vern Burke was seriously injured when a silk train hit his truck at De Graff. He is at a local hospital recovering.

Blasts stumps and loses hand
Hutchinson, Minn., Nov. 21.—(U P)—Premature explosion of a dynamite charge set off by P. T. Mullin, who was blasting stumps on his farm near here, burned his hand so badly amputation was necessary. Mullin also suffered severe burns on his face and body. He is expected to recover.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL THOUGHT KIDNAPED

RUTH JONES, AGED 16, OF ST.
PAUL, DISAPPEARED THURS-DAY NIGHT

HER HAT, FOUND ON STREET NEAR SCHOOL, IS ONLY
TRACE FOUND

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Ruth Jones, pretty 16 year old high school girl, who disappeared Thursday night, was today believed the victim of a kidnaper.

The girl had been attending an education week program at school in the evening, promising her parents to be home at 9:30 P. M. She started out alone shortly before that. It was a distance of only three blocks.

When she failed to arrive at the promised time, her family investigated and notified police. Her hat, found on the street near the school is the only trace in a day and night of frantic searching.

Other girls have been pursued by a lone man in an automobile in the same neighborhood recently, police have learned. Two were accosted the same evening Ruth disappeared.
Authorities believe location of the "masher" will solve their latest mystery.

U. S. TURNS DOWN DOWN RUMANIAN DEBT FUND PROFFER

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The United States today turned down the Rumanian proposal for funding that nation's $46,000,000 war debt to this country and has made a counter proposal containing less lenient terms.

The Rumanian proposal and the American counter proposal were made at a meeting of the debt commissions of the two nations here today.

DENIED IN DISTRICT COURT BY JUDGE R. D.
O'BRIEN

GLEEMANS NOW SERVING LIFE
SENTENCES FOR SLAYING OF BURT STEVENS

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The motion of Ben and Abe Gleeman for a new trial was denied today in district court by Judge R. D. O'Brien.
Now serving life sentences for the murder of Burt Stevens in a bootleg war, the Gleemans filed affidavits some time ago charging that they were railroaded to jail to protect their employers, heads of the alleged Twin Cities liquor syndicate.

Carl Cummins, attorney for the convicts, announced that the decision will be appealed to the supreme court.

Before denying the motion, Judge O'Brien ruled out Cummins' request for a delay to obtain affidavits from George Hurley, under arrest in Chicago, charged with complicity in the crime.

Hurley, Cummins told the court, would swear the two Gleemans were not at the scene of the fatal shooting and knows who was.

Morris Miller, the St. Louis gunman, whom the Gleemans have named as the real slayer of Stevens, can be arrested any time, Cummins told the court he had been informed by government officials. H. H. Peterson, county attorney, has persistently maintained that Miller is a myth.

TITIAN PAINTING SOLD MPLS. INSTITUTE FOR $200,000

New York, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Sale of a Titian painting valued at $200,000 to the Minneapolis Institute of Arts has been negotiated by the Rheinhardt galleries.

The picture, "The Temptation of Christ," portrays the Savior tempted by a youth, who holds in his hand, a stone, challenging Christ to perform the miracle of turning it into bread, thus to prove He is indeed the Son of God.

Philippe, Duc d'Orleans and regent of France, the great Titian collector of his day, purchased the painting from Chevalier de Lorraine. Its sale price was one of the largest in the history of any American museum.

WORLD COURT POLLS 79 VOTES IN THE SENATE

Washington, Nov. 28.—(UP)— Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, assured President Coolidge today that the world court plan which Mr. Coolidge strongly endorsed in his New York address, would receive 79 votes in the senate when American adherence is taken up.

Lenroot conferred with the president on legislative problems of the coming session of congress.
He declined to comment on other questions with which he and the president are concerned.

Lenroot discounted the world court modification of proposals and expressed the belief adherence would be approved substantially as submitted.

He intimated that Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, who has proposed modifications to the Harding-Hughes plan, might be found voting for the proposal when it becomes a special order of business before the senate December 17.

BODY OF THE ALLEN BABY OF CHICAGO TO BE EX-
HUMED

DR. WM. O. KROHN, NOTED
ALIENIST, HAS MOTHER UN-DER OBSERVATION

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Mrs.
Grace A. Allen, 35, wife of a wealthy Chicago business man, was questioned throughout the night and until an early hour this morning in connection with the investigation into the death of her five weeks old baby.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe personally directed the examination and later called in Dr. William O.
Krohn, noted alienist, to observe Mrs. Allen.

In another room John R. Allen, the husband, was questioned.

The body of the child, buried two days ago will be exhumed for further examination, it was announced.
This decision was made early today when the city chemist reported he had found traces of chloroform in the vital organs of the child.

Dr. William D. McNally, the chemist, said he found indications that the child had been fed chloroform with its milk.

Mrs. Allen told police she did not recall whether she had prepared the bottle of milk on the night of the tragedy.

"It might have been Miss Frogen, the nurse," she told Crowe. "I do not recall. First, Miss Frogen gave him a little of the milk and then I took him and the bottle to the bedroom alone, where he had the rest of the milk."

Crowe said he learned that Mrs.
Allen felt a dread of childbirth. The Allens have been married nine years and this was their first child. Some months before the baby was born, Mrs. Allen suffered a nervous breakdown.

Miss Caroline Frogen, the nurse, also was questioned by Crowe and his assistants, as were other persons who know the Allens.

The Allens said they believed the child was smothered to death by burglars.

Mrs. Julius Thorson Injured
Benson—Mrs. Julius Thorson, who was injured in an automobile accident yesterday was recovering last night. She is the wife of the state democratic chairman.

GERMAN REICHSRAT APPROVES LOCARNO SAFETY TREATY

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The reichsrat today approved the Locar-no safety treaties by a vote of 46 to 4 with 14 abstaining.

The reichsrat, somewhat similar to the American senate, has delegates from each German state.
The treaties come up next week in the reichstag on a vote to approve their signing. The passage now appears certain.

COMMERCIAL AVIATION GIVEN ANOTHER IMPETUS

P. O. DEPARTMENT TO OPEN
BIDS FOR MANY AIR
MAIL ROUTES

BETWEEN CLEVELAND AND DE-TROIT, CHICAGO AND DETROIT, ETC.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Development of commercial aviation in the United States will take on new momentum today when the postoffice department opens bids for air mail routes between Cleveland and Detroit, Chicago and Detroit and Chicago and New Orleans.

Henry Ford, automobile magnate, who is branching out in the aviation field, is expected to bid for both Detroit lines. Ford, postal authorities said, wanted to carry the mail on these routes free of charge, but as this was not permissible, Postmaster General New called for bids on the lines.

The three new routes will connect with the government operated transcontinental system. In addition to carrying the mail the new lines will be permitted to transport freight and passengers at commercial rates for the operators' own profit.

Should the lines be awarded to contractors the mail service would start in the spring, with round trips daily between the station cities.

LOST BRITISH MONITOR MET SAME FATE AS THE S-51

London, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The lost British monitor submarine
M-1 met a fate similar to the United States submarine S-51.

This was revealed today when the admiralty announced that a report of the master of the steamer Vidar of Stockholm and examination of the Vidar's hull showed the M-1 disaster was due to a collision with the steamer.

BEER WAR IN CHICAGO IS CONTINUING

TWO MORE KILLINGS ADDED TO LIST OF FATAL-
TIES

POLICE BELIEVE THEY ARE OUT-
COME OF AMATUNA
SLAYING

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—With two killings more added to the list of beer war fatalities, police today looked for further depopulation of the local colony of gangsters.

Abraham Goldstein, better known as "Pete the Peddler" and known as an intimate of "Samuels" Amatuna, slain beer baron, was shot to death in a drug store last night. Two men riddled him with bullets and then drove away.

About the same time Marion Mas-carelli, former deputy sheriff, was shot to death by three men. He managed to empty his revolver at the men as he sank dying to the crowd, but none of the assailants was hurt.

Police believe the two killings are an outgrowth of the Amatuna slay-ing. One man was killed shortly after the Amatuna funeral, making three deaths so far in the battle of the various beer running factions.

STEPHENSON IN GRIM PRISON

FORMER DRAGON BOASTING HE WAS THE LAW, NOW NAME-
LESS CONVICT

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 21.—
(UP)—D. C. Stephenson, convicted murderer of Miss Madge Oberholtzer former dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, the man who boasted he was the law, today became a nameless convict in the state penitentiary.

The sheriff's automobile carrying the former dragon, arrived in the prison court yard at 11:12. Prison officials were awaiting.

None of the nonchalance that marked the convicted man's manner throughout the trial, left him as he faced a life of imprisonment. Smiling and joking, he walked with the little group of officers to the offices where he lost his worldly identity.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT, STAGE
"MAGIC HANDS" CURED HIM

This photograph was taken in New York while Chauncey Olcott was recuperating from an illness which had threatened to take his life. It shows Mrs. Olcott with her hands, to which the famous star attributes his cure, on her husband's shoulders.

RUMORS THAT RHINELANDER
MAY MAKE CASH SET-TLEMENT

DAUGHTER OF CAB DRIVER RU-MORED MAY GET
$300,000

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 21.— (UP)—Dispute between leading counsel for Leonard Kip Rhinelander was a much discussed possibility today as speculation in regard to the abrupt week-end adjournment in his sensational annulment trial.

Former Judge Isaac N. Mills, trial counsel for young Rhinelander, who charges that his wife deceived him as to her color, is reported in disagreement with Leon R. Jacobs, attorney of record, who prepared the case for the young aristocrat, which Mills is arguing in court.

While Mills made a categorical denial of any such act, he said he had no appointment with Jacobs until Monday morning in the court room.

"Of course, if Jacobs wants to see me he knows where my office and my home are," Mills added.

Meanwhile rumors have become insistent that Rhinelander is seeking a financial settlement with his wife, who was Alice Jones, daughter of a Negro cabman. The reported amount runs as high as $300,000. It is understood that if the aristocratic boy consents to dismissal of the annulment action his attorneys will arrange a Paris divorce.

AIRPLANE FELL; AVIATORS UNHURT

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Joseph Hinrey and Rube Grabe, Madison, escaped serious injury today when the airplane in which they were planning on making a flight to the state capital fell and was reduced to wreckage in a wooded swamp near here.

Both men sustained minor cuts.
Engine trouble and flying too low a level to permit a safe landing place was the cause of the accident.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT KILLS SUPERIOR MAN

Superior, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—A large touring car ran down and killed an unidentified man here today and escaped from the scene of the accident. The car was driving south through the city at a high rate of speed, according to witnesses. A search for the automobile is underway.

IDENTIFY TWO VICTIMS OF AUTO PLUNGE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—(UP)— Police today identified two victims of an automobile plunge into Detroit river here last night as Edward J.
Byrne, Philadelphia, and Fred R.
Warden of Detroit.

Both were killed when their sedan skidded at the foot of Second avenue and plunged over a dock into 25 feet of water.

FIEND, WIELDING A CLUB, KILLS
TWO OF SEVEN HE STRUCK

OVER A PERIOD OF SIX WEEKS

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 21.—(UP)—
The most intensive manhunt in the annals of Toledo was under way today for the fiend, who, wielding a club, has struck down seven women here causing the death of two of them.

The man, characterized as the "Monster of the Night," struck down
Mrs. Kathryn Knight, a housewife, last night, and two hours later made an unsuccessful attempt to club Miss Pauline Winover, a salesgirl.

The attacks have occurred over a period of six weeks. One of the man's victims died from her injuries and a second was found dead between two houses, her body mutilated.

GENERAL MOTORS BRANCHES OUT

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—An agreement has been effected between General Motors corporation and Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., of London, England, whereby General Motors will have three representatives on the Vauxhall board of directors, which has been increased to seven members. A. P.
Sloane, Jr., president of General Motors corporation, announced in a statement here today.

"The Vauxhall company will continue exactly as at present under the same management and with no change in general operation policies," Sloane's statement explains.

MARKED FLYING FIELD AT WILLMAR

Willmar, Minn., Nov. 21.—(UP)—
Arrangements have been completed for a marked flying field here.
The project is sponsored by the commercial club. The field is to be located on a farm southwest of the city.

Six Passengers on Bus Hurt

Eveleth—Six passengers on a Northland Transportation bus were hurt and 16 others badly shaken when a driver blinded by the sun failed to make a turn near Cotton yesterday. The bus plunged over a 12 foot hill and landed upright. Only one of the injured remained in the hospital last night.

40,000 See Livestock Exhibition

Minot, N. D.—About 4,000 persons turned out to attend the exhibition given by the 16 boy and girl farmers of the livestock special which stopped here yesterday. The tour includes almost 20 towns of the northwest.

Work to Develop Upper River

St. Paul—Commissioner J. M.
Clancy yesterday asked for the organization of the Northern Mississippi Valley delegates when the association meets at St. Louis next week.
Clancy is working for development of the upper river.

Deny Exemption of Joint Rate

St. Paul—The request of the Minnesota Western Railroad Company to be exempt from the joint rate rules July, 1913, was denied by the Minnesota Railroad & Warehouse commission yesterday. The Minnesota Western claimed it was suffering loss because of the ruling.

Boy Scouts Honored

St. Paul—Three Boy Scouts were publicly honored last night for life saving acts during the summer. They were Moe Lussan, Douglas Conradi and George Boody. Lussan and Conradi made water rescues and Boody performed a resuscitation on a woman at Potato Lake.

Burned to Death

Marquette, Wis.—Anton Solper was burned to death when his clothes caught fire while he was burning brush on his farm.

Protest Officer's Removal

St. Paul—The Minnesota Tree society yesterday wired Secretary of Agriculture Jardine protesting the removal of Colonel Greeley, chief of the forest service. The Oregon Cattle & Horse Raisers' association asked for Greeley's resignation.

TRACE FOUND

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Ruth Jones, pretty 16 year old high school girl, who disappeared Thursday night, was today believed the victim of a kidnaper.

The girl had been attending an education week program at school in the evening, promising her parents to be home at 9:30 P. M. She started out alone shortly before that. It was a distance of only three blocks.

When she failed to arrive at the promised time, her family investigated and notified police. Her hat, found on the street near the school is the only trace in a day and night of frantic searching.

Other girls have been pursued by a lone man in an automobile in the same neighborhood recently, police have learned. Two were accosted the same evening Ruth disappeared. Authorities believe location of the "masquerader" will solve their latest mystery.

U. S. TURNS DOWN DOWN RUMANIAN DEBT FUND PROFFER

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The United States today turned down the Rumanian proposal for funding that nation's $46,000,000 war debt to this country and has made a counter proposal containing less lenient terms.

The Rumanian proposal and the American counter proposal were made at a meeting of the debt commissions of the two nations here today.

DENIED IN DISTRICT COURT BY JUDGE R. D.
O'BRIEN

SENTENCES FOR SLAYING OF BURT STEVENS

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The motion of Ben and Abe Gleeman for a new trial was denied today in district court by Judge R. D. O'Brien.

No serving life sentences for the murder of Burt Stevens in a bootleg war, the Gleemans filed affidavits some time ago charging that they were railroaded to jail to protect their employers, heads of the alleged Twin Cities liquor syndicate.

Carl Cummins, attorney for the convicts, announced that the decision will be appealed to the supreme court.

Before denying the motion, Judge O'Brien ruled out Cummins' request for a delay to obtain affidavits from George Hurley, under arrest in Chicago, charged with complicity in the crime. Hurley, Cummins told the court, would swear the two Gleemans were not at the scene of the fatal shooting and knows who was.

Morris Miller, St. Louis gunman, whom the Gleemans have named as the real slayer of Stevens, could be arrested any time, Cummins told the court he had been informed by government officials. H. H. Peterson, county attorney, has persistently maintained that Miller is a myth.

TITIAN PAINTING SOLD MPLS. INSTITUTE FOR $200,000

New York, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Sale of a Titian painting valued at $200,000 to the Minneapolis Institute of Arts has been negotiated by the Rheinhardt galleries.

The picture, "The Temptation of Christ," portrays the Savior tempted by a youth, who holds in his hand, a stone, challenging Christ to perform the miracle of turning it into bread, thus to prove He is indeed the Son of God.

Phillippe, Duc d'Orleans and regent of France, the great Titian collector of his day, purchased the painting from Chevalier de Lorraine. Its sale price was one of the largest in the history of any American museum.

WORLD COURT POLLS 79 VOTES IN THE SENATE

Washington, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, assured President Coolidge today that the world court plan which Mr. Coolidge strongly endorsed in his New York address, would receive 79 votes in the senate when American adherence is taken up.

Lenroot conferred with the president on legislative problems of the coming session of congress. He declined to comment on other questions with which he and the president are concerned.

Lenroot discounted the world court modification of proposals and expressed the belief adherence would be approved substantially as submitted.

He intimated that Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, who has proposed modifications to the Harding-Hughes plan, might be found voting for the proposal when it becomes a special order of business before the senate December 17.

CHICAGO TO BE EX-
HUMED

DR. WM. O. KROHN, NOTED
ALIENIST, HAS MOTHER UN-
DER OBSERVATION

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Grace A. Allen, 35, wife of a wealthy Chicago business man, was questioned throughout the night and until an early hour this morning in connection with the investigation into the death of her five weeks old baby.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe personally directed the examination and later called in Dr. William O. Krohn, noted alienist, to observe Mrs. Allen.

In another room John R. Allen, the husband, was questioned.

The body of the child, buried two days ago will be exhumed for further examination, it was announced. This decision was made early today when the city chemist reported he had found traces of chloroform in the vital organs of the child. Dr. William D. McNally, the chemist, said he found indications that the child had been fed chloroform with its milk.

Mrs. Allen told police she did not recall whether she had prepared the bottle of milk on the night of the tragedy.

"It might have been Miss Frogen, the nurse," she told Crowe. "I do not recall. First, Miss Frogen gave him a little of the milk and then I took him and the bottle to the bedroom alone, where he had the rest of the milk."

Crowe said he learned that Mrs. Allen felt a dread of childbirth. The Allens have been married nine years and this was their first child. Some months before the baby was born, Mrs. Allen suffered a nervous breakdown.

Miss Caroline Frogen, the nurse, also was questioned by Crowe and his assistants, as were other persons who know the Allens.

The Allens said they believed the child was smothered to death by burglars.

Mrs. Julius Thorson Injured

Benson—Mrs. Julius Thorson, who was injured in an automobile accident yesterday was recovering last night. She is the wife of the state democratic chairman.

GERMAN REICHSRAT APPROVES LOCARNO SAFETY TREATY

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The reichsrat today approved the Locarno safety treaties by a vote of 46 to 4 with 14 abstaining.

The reichsrat, somewhat similar to the American senate, has delegates from each German state.

The treaties come up next week in the reichstag on a vote to approve their signing. The passage now appears certain.

COMMERCIAL AVIATION GIVEN ANOTHER IMPETUS

P. O. DEPARTMENT TO OPEN
BIDS FOR MANY AIR
MAIL ROUTES

BETWEEN CLEVELAND AND DE-
DETROIT, ETC.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Development of commercial aviation in the United States will take on new momentum today when the postoffice department opens bids for air mail routes between Cleveland and Detroit, Chicago and Detroit and Chicago and New Orleans.

Henry Ford, automobile magnate, who is branching out in the aviation field, is expected to bid for both Detroit lines. Ford, postal authorities said, wanted to carry the mail on these routes free of charge, but as this was not permissible, Postmaster General New called for bids on the lines.

The three new routes will connect with the government operated transcontinental system. In addition to carrying the mail the new lines will be permitted to transport freight and passengers at commercial rates for the operators' own profit.

LOST BRITISH MONITOR MET SAME FATE AS THE S-51

London, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The lost British monitor submarine M-1 met a fate similar to the United States submarine S-51. This was revealed today when the admiralty announced that a report of the master of the steamer Vidar of Stockholm and examination of the Vidar's hull showed the M-1 disaster was due to a collision with the steamer.

BEER WAR IN CHICAGO IS CONTINUING

TWO MORE KILLINGS ADDED TO LIST OF FATAL-
TIES

COME OF AMATUNA
SLAYING

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—With two killings more added to the list of beer war fatalities, police today looked for further depopulation of the local colony of gangsters.

Abraham Goldstein, better known as "Pete the Peddler" and known as an intimate of "Samuels" Amatuna, slain beer baron, was shot to death in a drug store last night. Two men riddled him with bullets and then drove away.

About the same time Marlon Mascarelli, former deputy sheriff, was shot to death by three men. He managed to empty his revolver at the men as he sank dying to the crowd, but none of the assailants was hurt.

Police believe the two killings are an outgrowth of the Amatuna slaying. One man was killed shortly after the Amatuna funeral, making three deaths so far in the battle of the various beer running factions.

STEPHENSON IN GRIM PRISON

WAS THE LAW, NOW NAME-
LESS CONVICT

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 21.—(UP)—D. C. Stephenson, convicted murderer of Miss Madge Oberholzer, former dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, the man who boasted he was the law, today became a nameless convict in the state penitentiary.

The sheriff's automobile carrying the former dragon, arrived in the prison court yard at 11:12. Prison officials were awaiting.

None of the nonchalance that marked the convicted man's manner throughout the trial, left him as he faced a life of imprisonment. Smiling and joking, he walked with the little group of officers to the offices where he lost his worldly identity.

"MAGIC HANDS" CURED HIM

This photograph was taken in New York while Chauncey Olcott was recuperating from an illness which had threatened to take his life. It shows Mrs. Olcott with her hands, to which the famous star attributes his cure, on her husband's shoulders.

MAY MAKE CASH SET-TLEMENT

DAUGHTER OF CAB DRIVER RU-
$300,000

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Dispute between leading counsel for Leonard Kip Rhinelandter was a much discussed possibility today as speculation in regard to the abrupt week-end adjournment in his sensational annulment trial.

Former Judge Isaac N. Mills, trial counsel for young Rhinelandter, who charges that his wife deceived him as to her color, is reported in disagreement with Leon R. Jacobs, attorney of record, who prepared the case for the young aristocrat, which Mills is arguing in court.

While Mills made a categorical denial of any such act, he said he had no appointment with Jacobs until Monday morning in the court room. "Of course, if Jacobs wants to see me he knows where my office and my home are," Mills added.

Meanwhile rumors have become insistent that Rhinelandter is seeking a financial settlement with his wife, who was Alice Jones, daughter of a Negro cabman. The reported amount runs as high as $300,000. It is understood that if the aristocratic boy consents to dismissal of the annulment action his attorneys will arrange a Paris divorce.

AIRPLANE FELL; AVIATORS UNHURT

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Joseph Hinrey and Rube Grabe, Madison, escaped serious injury today when the airplane in which they were planning on making a flight to the state capital fell and was reduced to wreckage in a wooded swamp near here. Both men sustained minor cuts.

Engine trouble and flying too low a level to permit a safe landing place was the cause of the accident.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT KILLS SUPERIOR MAN

Superior, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—A large touring car ran down and killed an unidentified man here today and escaped from the scene of the accident. The car was driving south through the city at a high rate of speed, according to witnesses. A search for the automobile is underway.

IDENTIFY TWO VICTIMS OF AUTO PLUNGE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Police today identified two victims of an automobile plunge into Detroit river here last night as Edward J. Byrne, Philadelphia, and Fred R. Warden of Detroit.

Both were killed when their sedan skidded at the foot of Second avenue and plunged over a dock into 25 feet of water.

TWO OF SEVEN HE STRUCK

WEEKS

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The most intensive manhunt in the annals of Toledo was under way today for the fiend, who, wielding a club, has struck down seven women here causing the death of two of them.

The man, characterized as the "Monster of the Night," struck down Mrs. Kathryn Knight, a housewife, last night, and two hours later made an unsuccessful attempt to club Miss Pauline Winover, a salesgirl.

The attacks have occurred over a period of six weeks. One of the man's victims died from her injuries and a second was found dead between two houses, her body mutilated.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano "Makes Good" --- Yet It Costs Only $520

The piano that you intend for yourself and your loved ones—if it is to be a good investment—must possess these characteristics:

Mellowness of tone
Quick responsiveness to touch
High musical quality
Beauty of design and finish
Unquestioned integrity of workmanship.

The lack of any one or more of these essential features in the piano you purchase will defeat your purpose, for you would be getting less than you should have, in order to completely satisfy your own and your children's musical requirements.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano measures full up to the standard set up above, no matter how critically you may examine it or "try it out"—as more than one thousand satisfied owners in and around Brainerd will tell you.

Come in, and let us show it to you. Hear it for yourself. A moderate down payment and comfortable weekly, monthly, or quarterly terms of payment will be arranged to make the owning easy. If you have an old piano, we'll accept it in part payment at a fair valuation.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano "Makes Good" --- Yet It Costs Only $520

The piano that you intend for yourself and your loved ones—if it is to be a good investment—must possess these characteristics:

Mellowness of tone
Quick responsiveness to touch
High musical quality
Beauty of design and finish
Unquestioned integrity of workmanship.

The lack of any one or more of these essential features in the piano you purchase will defeat your purpose, for you would be getting less than you should have, in order to completely satisfy your own and your children's musical requirements.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano measures full up to the standard set up above, no matter how critically you may examine it or "try it out"—as more than one thousand satisfied owners in and around Brainerd will tell you.

Come in, and let us show it to you. Hear it for yourself. A moderate down payment and comfortable weekly, monthly, or quarterly terms of payment will be arranged to make the owning easy. If you have an old piano, we'll accept it in part payment at a fair valuation.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

SUCCESSFUL FAILURES

The world has usually been slow to appreciate the worth of its geniuses and outstanding leaders. New ideas have always had to fight for their lives. History is full of the stories of successful failures.

Cervantes, the greatest of all Spanish novelists, died in poverty, neglected and ignored. His grave is unmarked and the place of his birth is unknown. Although a gallant soldier of the king his loyalty went unrewarded except for the honorable scars he carried to his grave. It is doubtful whether a hundred people in Spain in 1616 believed that a genius had died, yet his one book, Don Quixote, has gone through more than 500 editions and has been translated into more languages than any other piece of literature in the world except the Bible and Pilgrim's Progress.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which now adorns the walls of offices, universities, libraries and homes, did not receive editorial mention in a single newspaper in the nation at the time of its delivery, except in terms of ridicule and derision. The files of the papers during the days of the Civil war show Mr. Lincoln to have been a man in high disfavor with enemies and supporters alike.

John Fitch, the man who first operated a steamboat, exhibiting his invention before the members of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787, was considered a crank and a visionary. George Washington thought so little of the steamboat exhibition that he accepted a dinner invitation for the same hour and did not attend, although the convention adjourned for the purpose of being present.

Charles Goodyear failed for eleven years in his search for some means of vulcanizing rubber and finally died in poverty and was carried to his grave in obscurity. Now the world rides on air as a result of his labors.

Jesus of Nazareth died upon a cross between two thieves, the most ignominious death that could be inflicted in His day. He left less than one hundred and fifty loyal followers, no books, no writings and no organization. Yet the world dates all its legal documents in reference to the day of his birth and his ideals are more influential in determining the life and destiny of more people in the world than any other man who ever lived.

No man is a failure because the crowd has rejected him. "Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again," and a great work, well done, will never die. Our town, too, is full of successful failures: Men and women who have succeeded in building great characters and no fortunes.

to all to worship with us, A Thanksgiving offering will be taken at this service.

There will be special music by the choir at the morning service. They will render

"Praise to the Lord" by Carrie B. Adams and "Let Us Sing Unto the Lord" by E. S. Lorenz. At the evening service the girls' chorus will render "It Is a Good Thing" by Ira B. Wilson.

There remains but two weeks to close our "Square Up, Pay Up" campaign and there is considerable to raise in order to go over the top. This will only be accomplished by your help. Can we count on you? By vote of the church there will be a special thank offering taken up next Sunday, Nov. 25th, to go for this campaign and for missions in accordance with the way the same may be designated by the givers. Don't forget to bring the special envelopes for this offering next Sunday in addition to the regular envelopes.

Dr. Clark, a missionary who has been forty-five years in the Belgium Congo, will be with us next Sunday. He is one of the great missionaries of the world and he will have wonderful messages. There will be no prayer meeting next Thursday but the members are invited to join in the Union services on that day.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.

SUCCESSFUL FAILURES

The world has usually been slow to appreciate the worth of its geniuses and outstanding leaders. New ideas have always had to fight for their lives. History is full of the stories of successful failures.

Cervantes, the greatest of all Spanish novelists, died in poverty, neglected and ignored. His grave is unmarked and the place of his birth is unknown. Although a gallant soldier of the king his loyalty went unrewarded except for the honorable scars he carried to his grave. It is doubtful whether a hundred people in Spain in 1616 believed that a genius had died, yet his one book, Don Quixote, has gone through more than 300 editions and has been translated into more languages than any other piece of literature in the world except the Bible and Pilgrim's Progress.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which now adorns the walls of offices, universities, libraries and homes, did not receive editorial mention in a single newspaper in the nation at the time of its delivery, except in terms of ridicule and derision. The files of the papers during the days of the Civil war show Mr. Lincoln to have been a man in high disfavor with enemies and supporters alike.

John Fitch, the man who first operated a steamboat, exhibiting his invention before the members of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787, was considered a crank and a visionary. George Washington thought so little of the steamboat exhibition that he accepted a dinner invitation for the same hour and did not attend, although the convention adjourned for the purpose of being present.

Charles Goodyear failed for eleven years in his search for some means of vulcanizing rubber and finally died in poverty and was carried to his grave in obscurity. Now the world rides on air as a result of his labors.

Jesus of Nazareth died upon a cross between two thieves, the most ignominious death that could be inflicted in His day. He left less than one hundred and fifty loyal followers, no books, no writings and no organization. Yet the world dates all its legal documents in reference to the day of his birth and his ideals are more influential in determining the life and destiny of more people in the world than any other man who ever lived.

No man is a failure because the crowd has rejected him. "Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again," and a great work, well done, will never die. Our town, too, is full of successful failures: Men and women who have succeeded in building great characters and no fortunes.

to all to worship with us, A Thanksgiving offering will be taken at this service.

At the evening service the girls' chorus will render "It Is a Good Thing" by Ira B. Wilson.

There remains but two weeks to close our "Square Up, Pay Up" campaign and there is considerable to raise in order to go over the top. This will only be accomplished by your help. Can we count on you? By vote of the church there will be a special thank offering taken up next Sunday, Nov. 29th, to go for this campaign and for missions. In accordance with the way the same may be designated by the givers. Don't forget to bring the special envelopes for this offering next Sunday in addition to the regular envelopes.

Dr. Clark, a missionary who has been forty-five years in the Belgium Congo, will be with us next Sunday. He is one of the great missionaries of the world and he will have wonderful messages. There will be no prayer meeting next Thursday but the members are invited to join in the Union services on that day.

ANY FOOL CAN DRIVE FAST

"ANY fool can drive fast," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, in a recent interview. The automobile driver who goes faster does not drive better, in Mr. Hayes' opinion, and times have changed since the fast driver was considered a good driver. Good drivers are made through experience and education, he added, and are always on the alert for danger.

Here are some signs by which to identify those whom Mr. Hayes calls good drivers:

"The good driver stops at railroad crossings and looks both ways before crossing.

"On grades he travels in low speed.

"He stops and blows his horn before emerging from an alley.

"He signals his intentions to those in the rear.

"He never pulls away from a curb without looking back to see if the road is clear.

"He gets on the inside lane of travel when turning left and he pulls over near the curb when turning right.

"He never passes another car going in the same direction at a street intersection; he knows pedestrians are injured that way.

"He slows down when passing schools, churches or buildings where public gatherings take place.

"He never passes another car on a hill or curve.

"He gives the right of way to cars approaching from the right.

"He slows down to ten miles an hour at street car crossings.

"He is courteous to other motorists and to pedestrians.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

MINNESOTA'S State Fair will be held from September 4 to 11, in 1926, it was officially decided by the Board of Managers at its last monthly meeting. Though the fair is months away, the Fair Board publishes a magazine, "Minnesota State Fair News," giving an account of activities under way for the 1926 exposition.

THE DISPATCH was honored this year by having an editorial on the fair reproduced by President Roe and used in publicity work. It related to the educational value of the fair.

The 1925 State Fair, from many viewpoints, was the best ever staged by the State Agricultural Society. Although the report on the year's activities will not be available until November 30, when the fiscal year ends, officials are agreed that the last fair was the banner one in all respects, excepting possibly profits. It is believed, however, that the fair will show a small operating profit when the books are closed.

The educational exhibits this year were easily the best the fair has ever presented. This is true both as to quality and quantity. The livestock show was especially noteworthy and the agricultural and horticultural exhibits also excelled those of other years.

CONTROL OF THE AIR

BRAINERD is not the only town striving to "clear the air" and give the radio full play. It is suspected that our local interference includes power leakage and a "trouble shooter," Everett McQuillin, has been named by the radio society to locate the center of disturbances.

The Park Rapids Enterprise notes that control of the air is one of the problems of the present, even in the smaller towns, including Park Rapids. There are radio sets and radio sets and some of them are said to produce an excruciating squeal whenever the operator tries to tune in on the evening program.

Those who have other machines with the squeal eliminated, and an interest in maintaining the best possible conditions for radio pleasures, would like to protest the operation of the interfering machines, but to whom and with what effect is the problem.

We are no authority on radios, but we believe that unskillful tuning in has an effect on radios in the vicinity. A step in the solution of the larger air troubles is the suggestion that Hoover be made the Landis of the air with full power to settle all difficulties.

RELY ON MAN OF EXPERIENCE

THE Elk River Star News states editorially that Cass county and Hubbard county are said to be grooming candidates for Congress to take Harold Knutson's scalp next year. A congressman becomes more valuable to his district the longer he serves. That is why the east is more powerful in Congress than the western states.

They keep a man in Congress for long periods and their representatives have more influence as a result than the western congressmen. The Sixth Minnesota district appears to have adopted this plan and Knutson seems to have a pretty firm hold upon the voters as rival candidates have found out in the past few years.

THE Lum family have disposed of their interest in the Staples World and the new editor is Howard (Doc) Sims, of Pickneyville, Illinois. Mrs. Sims was born of a newspaper family, learned the business while growing up and loves the smell of printers ink.

NEW YORK city isn't the only place where cafes and restaurants, etc., are being padlocked for violation of prohibition laws. At Brownville recently a soft drink parlor and pool hall was closed and padlocked for a year.

WHEN the car of Deputy Sheriff Larson of Beltrami county broke down, the official continued his way on foot and walked 40 miles to serve papers in a case.

THE Mitchell trial is bringing out a lot of plane talk, says Billy Noonan in the Baudette Region.

"WHEN admiring a mule," says the Life Extension Bureau, "always stand in front of him."

THE old fashioned Thanksgiving, with all the members of the family gathered at one home, and the house filled with elusive odors of delicious things to eat is after all the best sort of celebration for this most American of days.

Oyster or Fruit Cocktail
Turkey—Stuffed and Roasted
Cranberry Sauce
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Creamed Cauliflower
Pickled Watermelon Rind
Celery

Pumpkin Pie Cheese Balls
Coffee Fruit Nuts

For the table decoration nothing is more appropriate and attractive than a lovely silver dish or a basket filled with fruits and nuts. If the table is a long one, unshaded candles in severely plain candlesticks may be used to balance the center piece without obscuring the view.

After dinner the tendency to spend a dull and lifeless afternoon can be arrested by planning some outdoor activity. If there is ice and snow, a skating or toboggan party or even a brisk walk in the late afternoon will overcome the sluggishness which naturally follows a day indoors and a heavy meal. The exercise will revive some enthusiasm for food so that the light lunch of sandwiches, coffee and small cakes—which is served for supper will be appreciated. Directions for the preparation of the turkey and vegetables, as well as recipes for the pie and cakes for the afternoon are given below.

Roast Turkey
Slit surface, remove pin feathers. Wash fowl thoroughly inside and out. Sprinkle both in and outside with salt. Fill cavity with dressing. Sew up stout thread around neck and fasten with wire skewers. Rub outside of bird thoroughly with Crisco, dust well with flour. Fold wings back, catching tips under the body. Press the legs close to the body and tie in place. To keep ends of drumsticks from scorching before bird is done, wrap them in strips of cloth soaked in Crisco.

Twenty-five to thirty minutes per pound should be allowed for roasting. The first part is done in hot oven 450° F. with cover off. After browning has started, the turkey should be basted with juice which has collected in pan and with fresh melted crisco. The cover is then placed over pan and roasting finished more slowly, 375° F. The turkey is tender enough when a fork pierces the meat easily. It may then be removed to platter and gravy may be made in the roasting pan. This is most easily done by stirring a thin paste of flour and water into juice already in the pan. Add hot water and boil down to desired consistency.

Season well with salt and pepper and add finely chopped giblets. These should have been cooked separately in boiling water until tender.

Stuffing for Turkey

2 quarts stale Bread Crumbs, finely crumbed

1/2 cup melted Crisco

1 tablespoonful Salt

1 tablespoonful White Pepper

1 tablespoonful Summer Savor

1 tablespoonful Sage

2 small Onions finely minced

Soak crumbs in cold water for a few minutes. Squeeze very dry and crumble thoroughly. Add melted Crisco and seasonings.

Candied Sweet Potatoes

6 Sweet Potatoes

1 cupful Brown Sugar

1/2 cupful Water

Pare the potatoes and boil until about half done. Drain and cut in lengthwise slices and lay in a shallow greased pan. Spread with Crisco and pour over syrup made of brown sugar and water. Bake in a moderate oven, basting frequently with the syrup until potatoes are transparent. It may be necessary to add more syrup during the baking. An hour or more is usually required to candy the potatoes well.

Creamed Cauliflower

Remove green leaves from cauliflower head. Break flower into sections and let stand in cold salted water for an hour. Remove pieces and cook in boiling water until tender (about 10 minutes).

Salt water just before cooking is completed. Drain and place in warm serving dish. Pour over medium white sauce or serve with melted butter.

White Sauce (Medium)

2 tablespoonfuls Flour

2 tablespoonfuls Crisco

1/2 teaspoonful Salt

Pepper

1 cupful Milk

Melt Crisco, stir flour in slowly and continue stirring while milk is added. Cook until the mixture thickens. Add salt and pepper.

Pumpkin Pie

Line the plate with pastry, building up the edges.

Filling:

2 Eggs

1 1/2 cupfuls strained Pumpkin

3/4 cupful Brown Sugar

1 teaspoonful Cinnamon

1/2 teaspoonful Salt

1 1/2 cupfuls Milk

1/2 teaspoonful Ginger

Mix sugar, ginger, cinnamon and salt together, then add pumpkin and mix thoroughly. Add eggs beaten light, then the milk. Fill the lined pie plate. Put into hot oven 400°. After 15 minutes, reduce heat to 320°. Bake until set—about one hour.

Pie Crust

3 cupfuls Flour

2 teaspoonfuls Salt

3/4 cupful Crisco

Water

Sift flour and salt. Work in crisco with fingertips until finely divided. Stir in gradually just enough water to hold the dry ingredients together. Divide dough into two parts. Place on a slightly floured board and roll lightly with a floured rolling pin to a thin sheet large enough to fit a pie tin.

Almond Cakes

1/2 cupful Crisco

1/2 cupful Sugar

4 Egg Yolks

1/2 cupful Milk

3/4 cupful Flour

1 1/2 teaspoonful Baking Powder

Shredded Almonds

Powdered Sugar

Cream Crisco, add sugar gradually, egg yolks well beaten, milk, and flour mixed with baking powder. Put in paper cases or tiny muffin pans, sprinkle with shredded almonds and powdered sugar. Bake 375°—20 minutes.

ANY FOOL CAN DRIVE FAST

"ANY fool can drive fast," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, in a recent interview. The automobile driver who goes faster does not drive better, in Mr. Hayes' opinion, and times have changed since the fast driver was considered a good driver. Good drivers are made through experience and education, he added, and are always on the alert for danger.

Here are some signs by which to identify those whom Mr. Hayes calls good drivers:

"The good driver stops at railroad crossings and looks both ways before crossing.

"On grades he travels in low speed.

"He stops and blows his horn before emerging from an alley.

"He signals his intentions to those in the rear.

"He never pulls away from a curb without looking back to see if the road is clear.

"He gets on the inside lane of travel when turning left and he pulls over near the curb when turning right.

"He never passes another car going in the same direction at a street intersection; he knows pedestrians are injured that way.

"He slows down when passing schools, churches or buildings where public gatherings take place.

"He never passes another car on a hill or curve.

"He gives the right of way to cars approaching from the right.

"He slows down to ten miles an hour at street car crossings.

"He is courteous to other motorists and to pedestrians.

"He knows the laws and ordinances and obeys them. Everyone likes to ride with the good driver."

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

MINNESOTA'S State Fair will be held from September 4 to 11, in 1926, it was officially decided by the Board of Managers at its last monthly meeting. Though the fair is months away, the Fair Board publishes a magazine, "Minnesota State Fair News," giving an account of activities under way for the 1926 exposition.

THE DISPATCH was honored this year by having an editorial on the fair reproduced by President Roe and used in publicity work. It related to the educational value of the fair.

The 1925 State Fair, from many viewpoints, was the best ever staged by the State Agricultural Society. Although the report on the year's activities will not be available until November 30, when the fiscal year ends, officials are agreed that the last fair was the banner one in all respects, excepting possibly profits. It is believed, however, that the fair will show a small operating profit when the books are closed.

Carey Gives Lovers of Action Real Treat

Lovers of real action have a treat in store for them in Harry Carey as Sergeant O'Toole in the Hunt Stromberg supervised production, "The Bad Lands," playing at the Lyceum theatre tonight only.

Carey is daring, romantic, and funny all in one. He knows his life and history far back from the years of 1870 when the events depicted in "The Bad Lands" took place.

Norma Talmadge is Hit in "Graustark"

And cat can look at a queen. A cat and an American can make love to a princess, despite conventional barriers and royal objections.

That is conclusively demonstrated in "Graustark," starring Norma Talmadge, which Joseph M. Schenck has produced from the George Barr Mc-

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Case of Bertha Peterson, Administratrix, vs Henry Tabert on Trial

PERSONAL INJURY CASE

Plaintiff Seeks $7,779 Damages For Death of Son in Auto Accident

The drawing of the jurors in district court in the case of Bertha Peterson, Administratrix vs Henry Tabert was completed about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The jurors drawn are Rudolph Keppers, Fred A. Hanson, Mrs. John Petrabor, Mrs. Elmer Forsberg, Robert Johnston, L. M. Magnuson, Carl Marohn, Rev. A. G. Patterson, Ed. Butterfield, George Lucas, George Hughes and W. M. Sullivan. This is an action in which the plaintiff asks $7,779 damages against the defendant for the death of her 11-year old son. Death resulted from injuries sustained when plaintiff's son was struck by defendant's car and thrown into a ditch while he was walking on a public highway near the village of Clearbrook. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney F. A. Grady of Crookston. He is assisted by Attorneys Swanson & Swanson of this city, Attorney M. A. Spooner of Bemidji appears for the defense.

This case will probably take two or more days to try. The first witness called yesterday was Henry Tabert, the defendant in the case. He was called by plaintiff's attorneys for cross examination under the statute. The next witness called was Mrs. Peterson, the plaintiff. There will be several witnesses called in behalf of the plaintiff.

The defendant is well known in this vicinity, being a son of the late Jacob Tabert of Deerwood. He has run a store in Ironton since 1912.

SWEDISH BETHANY CHURCH

Evangelists F. Webster Tyler And H. H. Ness to Speak Sunday Morning

The pulpit of the Swedish Bethany church will be occupied by Evangelists F. Webster Tyler and H. H. Ness on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Ness is local pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly and Rev. Tyler, of New York, is holding a series of special meetings at the Assembly.

Both men are gifted speakers and have a message well worth hearing. A hearty invitation is extended to all to take part in the service which will be in English.

It is hoped to have one of the evangelists at the Sunday school session at 9:45 for a short talk to the children.

Lost Fits Temper

The irate customer returned to the photographer with the prints of the pictures he had taken.

"Do I look like this picture?" he stormed, shaking it in the photographer's face. "You've made me look like a monkey! Cock-eyed, and a chin like a bulldog. Do you call that a good likeness?"

"The answer is in the negative," sweetly replied the photographer. "Everybody's Magazine."

ANNUAL CARNIVAL AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

Parent-Teachers to Hold Same on Saturday, December 5th

COOK SALE IN AFTERNOON

Also a Rummage Sale—Big Show Starts at 7 O'clock in Evening

The Parent-Teachers of the Lincoln school, this city will hold their third annual carnival in the school house Saturday, December 5th. These carnivals in the past have been a great success, everyone attending enjoying themselves to the utmost, and it is hoped this year that everyone in Brainerd will get out and make this a bigger event than ever before.

In the afternoon at 2:30, the ladies of the Parent-Teachers will hold a cook sale and telephone orders for these things may be given and they will be taken care of as promptly as possible. In addition to the cook sale in the afternoon, the ladies will also hold a rummage sale and they promise to have everything that a person could possibly ask for.

The big show will commence at 7 o'clock in the evening and as usual, there will be the main concert which is always very worth while. This will be held in the assembly room of the school. The committee has prepared a live and up to date program. The Lincoln minstrels are to be there and they will be remembered by all who saw them last year as a perfect scream. Then there will be a fish pond and grab bag, a real Paris hat shoppe, an up-to-date beauty shoppe where everyone will be transformed into a Mary Pickford or Rudolph Valentino, and lots of other things in the way of a good time. There will also be homemade candies and pop corn balls on sale, and the lunch committee is preparing for a real day.

All the committee asks is that you bear this date in mind and come and help make this the biggest carnival ever held. The proceeds of these festivals are used for the benefit of the children in the district and for general welfare work.

Picture From Magazine Said To Have Been Sent To Rhinelander By Negro Girl Wife He Is Suing

To Keep Friendships "in Constant Repair"

Death and absence are not the only ways of losing friends. We grow away from people, and often this is sadder than going away from them. There are friends who pass and friends who remain. Few come with us all the way. Marie Stuart comments sadly in the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

With some we travel to the cross-road, and then, whether the farewell be conscious or unconscious, we turn in different directions. This does not prove disloyalty or failure on either side. We and they are in the grip of different tendencies, circumstances, social and spiritual laws. The currents of destiny bear us east and west. We outgrow friendships as we outgrow clothes. Thackeray Johnson said: "If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendships in constant repair."

If one or two have grown with us and the years have welded us we are blessed indeed. "If we find but one to whom we can speak out our heart freely, with whom we can walk in love and simplicity, without dissimulation, we have no ground of quarrel with the world or God." One such friend in a lifetime, to journey with us all the way—what a treasure beyond compare!

I think that friendship between man and woman can only last when each brings to it fine qualities of mind and of heart. Friendship which is a mere cover for flirtation or an avenue providing a convenient approach to a proposal is only a pretense.

Men do not always want to make love to women. Many a man honestly wants a woman comrade—someone to talk to—someone, also, with more understanding ear, and with more patience, than his brother man. And what a luxury it is to be ourselves, quite naturally, with just one human being!

I love the schoolboy definition of a friend—"one who knows all about you, and likes you just the same."

To be admitted to the friendship of a man or woman of true culture, largeness of vision and kindness is the greatest privilege on earth.

Radio in Japan

In Japan the outlook for the radio in the cities is not bright. The situation in the smaller towns is more promising. The pinch of depression is being felt by radio dealers and importers. Not a few have failed in the last two or three months. Most of these concerns were profiteering in the earlier days, and instead of proceeding conservatively, they speculated. Of the more than 2,000 dealers in radio receiving sets and accessories in Japan 50 per cent are in Tokyo. Import houses number about thirty. Japanese-made radio outfits are numerous, but those imported from America predominate. In Tokyo, it is estimated, there are at least 65,000 listeners. The Tokyo broadcast station declares that only about 50,000 have registered and pay fees.

MICHIGAN BEAT MINNESOTA, 35-0

MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA AT GRIPS TODAY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—With clear, crisp weather and a moderately fast playing field in prospect the Michigan Wolverines and the Minnesota Gophers meet on Ferry Field here this afternoon to decide the western conference championship.

While the Yost men idled away final hours at Barton Hills Country club near here and Coach Spears put the visitors through final practice at Jackson, thousands of rabid Michigan and Minnesota partisans poured into An Arbor last night and today. A crowd of 48,000 is expected to pack the stands when the game starts at 2:30 P. M. eastern standard time.

Every man on the Michigan squad is reported in perfect condition for the game, although the Minnesota line-up is expected to suffer from the absence of Captain Ascher, Gary and Hyde, who are suffering from injuries.

The line-ups:
Michigan—Oosterbaan, le; Edwards, lt; Baer, lg; Brown, c; Lovett, rg; Hawkins, rt; Flora, re; Friedman, qb; Gilbert, lbh; Webber, or; Gregory, rhh; Molenda, fb.

Minnesota—Tuttle, le; Drill, lt; Hanson, lg; MacKinnon, c; Walsh, rg; Meili, rt; Wheeler, re; Arandsee, qb; Almqvist, lbh; Murrell, rhh; Joesting, fb.

First Quarter—Michigan won the toss and chose to defend the west goal.

Almqvist received Friedman's kick behind the goal line and brought it back 20 yards. Almqvist made seven yards on two end runs. Almqvist kicked to Gilbert on the Michigan 45 yard line. Molenda plunged three yards through center to the Gopher 41 yard line. Molenda carried the ball eight yards on two off tackle plunges. Friedman was thrown for a short loss on the Gopher 36 yard line. Friedman's attempted place kick went wild and the ball was returned to the Minnesota 20 yard line. Both Joesting and Almqvist were stopped in attempts at tackle. Almqvist made six yards on a long right end sprint. Michigan was penalized five yards for offside and it was first down for Minnesota on their own 32 yard line. Joesting made five yards through right guard and added four more off left tackle. Joesting then made it first down through center on the 42 yard line.

Two line plunges and an end run gained nothing for Minnesota. Murrell kicked high to Gilbert on Michigan's 35 yard line. Friedman was stopped by Meili for a two-yard loss. Friedman passed 30 yards to Oosterbaan and the ball was given to Michigan because of interference. Another pass, Friedman to Gilbert, put the ball on Minnesota's 25 yard line. Minnesota took time out for consultation. A pass by Friedman was grounded. On the next play Molenda dashed off right tackle for a touchdown. Friedman kicked goal for an extra point. Michigan 7; Minnesota, 0.

Gilbert kicked to Joesting on his five yard line and he returned 30 yards to Minnesota's 35 yard line. Flora threw Almqvist for a five yard knock. Flora was knocked out on the play and time was called. Almqvist made 7 off Michigan left end. He was slightly injured on the play and time was again taken out.

A long pass, Almqvist to Wheeler, was grounded. Friedman returned Murrell's punt 23 yards through a broken field to the Michigan 37 yard line. Oosterbaan and Molenda collided in catching a 25 yard pass by Friedman and it was grounded. Gilbert bucked the line for 4 yards. Oosterbaan dropped another long pass from Friedman. Ascher replaced Arandsee for Minnesota. A Michigan punt put the ball over the Minnesota goal line. Ascher gained 3 yards through center. Baer threw Almqvist for a 7 yard loss. Baer stopped Joesting without a gain. The quarter ended with the ball on the Gopher 20 yard line. Score—Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 0.

Second Quarter—Murrell punted to Friedman on the Michigan 35 yard line. Molenda gained two yards at center. Molenda put the ball on the Michigan 41 yard line. Cooper replaced MacKinnon for Minnesota. Gilbert punted to Minnesota's 46 yard line. Baer threw Murrell without gain on an attempted long end run. Almqvist suffered a similar fate when he tried the left side of Michigan's line.

Murrell punted to Friedman who was stopped on Michigan 37 yard line. Minnesota was penalized 15 yards for interference. On a line buck by Molenda Michigan was penalized 15 yards for holding. The ball was returned to the Wolverine 34 yard line. Minnesota was penalized five yards for stalling. Gilbert ran through a broken field for 11 yards to the Wolverine 49 yard line. Meili was hurt on the play and replaced by Maeder for Minnesota. Gilbert took the ball to midfield on a short right end run. Gilbert punted to Almqvist who was downed in his tracks by Edwards on the Gopher 17 yard line. Joesting made two through center. Almqvist circled left end for 11, but was called back and Minnesota penalized five yards offside. Murrell punted from the 11 yard line to Gilbert who returned the ball 45 yards with a broken field run to the Minnesota 23 yard line.

GOLFING SKIPPER KEEPS IN TRIM ON BRIDGE FOR ROUND THE WORLD GOLF

Dyed in the wool golfers simply will not give up their favorite game. To meet this situation the Around the World Golf Club was formed. Members of this unique organization sail from New York on the Empress of Scotland on December 3, and invitations to use their links have been extended to this party by golf clubs in France, Italy, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Java, Singapore, China and Japan. Captain R. G. Latta, skipper of the Empress of India and commodore of the entire Canadian Pacific fleet, was born in Scotland and plays golf as a Scotsman plays the game. He has been elected president of the Around the World Golf Club.

bert took the ball to midfield on a short right end run. Gilbert punted to Almqvist who was downed in his tracks by Edwards on the Gopher 17 yard line. Joesting made two through center. Almqvist circled left end for 11, but was called back and Minnesota penalized five yards offside. Murrell punted from the 11 yard line to Gilbert who returned the ball 45 yards with a broken field run to the Minnesota 23 yard line.

Molenda hit left end for seven. Molenda added 4 more through center. Friedman was thrown for a one yard loss on the Minnesota 16 yard line on an attempted left end run. Friedman attempted left end kick but it was wide. The ball was Minnesota's on her 20 yard line. Brown stopped Joesting for no gain. Webber stopped Almqvist at the line. Almqvist lost one yard on attempted left end tackle. It was fourth down with the ball on Minnesota's 24 yard line. Murrell punted to Gilbert on Michigan's 40 yard line. Friedman gained 4 yards on left end tackle. Molenda carried the ball to his 45 yard line through left end.

Edwards made it first down around right end, where it was Michigan's ball on the Gopher 43 yard line. Cooper knocked Friedman's attempted pass down. Friedman lost three yards trying a left end run. Friedman passed 30 yards to Oosterbaan, who was downed on the Minnesota 23 yard line. Molenda made four at center. Gilbert ran 18 yards to Minnesota's one yard line, where Molenda carried the ball over on the next play. Friedman kicked goal for the extra point. Michigan 14; Minnesota, 0.

Gregory replaced Webber for Michigan. Oosterbaan intercepted a pass from Almqvist and returned it 15 yards to the Minnesota 31 yard line. On a fake cross buck Friedman passed to Oosterbaan on the Minnesota 3 yard line, but Oosterbaan dropped the ball. The entire Minnesota team broke through and tackled Friedman as he attempted to pass just before the half ended. Score end first half, Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 0.

The final score was Michigan 35, Minnesota 0.

NORTH DAKOTA AND MARQUETTE

Milwaukee, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Confident almost to the extreme, the North Dakota team which meets the Marquette golden avalanche here this afternoon hadn't any doubt about winning.

After arriving here yesterday morning Coach Davis took his Dakotans out to the Marquette stadium and saw them go through a pep workout.

The field is in perfect condition for any kind of football, be it aerial, line plunging or wide end runs.

Coach Murray, although also confident his 11 men will turn back the invaders, is not making any further predictions and knows the Northerners will give the Marquettens a stiff fight.

NORTHWESTERN AND NOTRE DAME

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Conceded little more than a fighting chance, the Wildcats of Northwestern went into the Notre Dame game determined to repeat the upset they gave Michigan two weeks ago.

Coach Knute Rockne, remembering the scare furnished by Northwestern last year, when the Purple gave the Irish the toughest battle of the season, probably will start his regulars.

CHICAGO-WISCONSIN IN 29TH BATTLE

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Without any title at stake but with both teams keyed to a high pitch by the traditional rivalry which started between them in 1894, Chicago and Wisconsin, lined up here today for their 29th battle.

Wisconsin is expected to employ a passing attack much the same as that which Dartmouth used so successfully last week against the Maroons.

Stagg is without several regulars who failed in some scholastic work. In the 28 previous battles between the two teams, Chicago has won 13, Wisconsin 11 and 4 were tied.

INDIANA AND PURDUE GAME

Bloomington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—More than 25,000 people were in Bloomington today ready for the annual clash between the crimson clad grid warriors of Indiana and the black and gold uniformed outfit from Purdue.

In this game Indiana will dedicate its new stadium, erected as a memorial to the world war veterans of the university.

The teams also will start a tradition by playing for the "Old Oaken Bucket," a trophy, which it is hoped will rank with the famous Michigan-Minnesota jug in future years.

KANSAS AND MISSOURI U.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Swamped by a milling, cheering horde of rooters, Lawrence was the capital of footballdom today, so far as Missourians and Kansans are concerned, as the eleven of Kansas and Missouri universities prepared for the 34th annual battle this afternoon.

The Kansas squad is in top form and although betting odds favor the undefeated Missourians, the feeling here is that Kansas, with Huber back in the lineup, will be able to shatter all hope and ruin a so far glorious season for Missouri. The Kansans outwight the Tigers both in the line and the backfield.

HUFFMAN, YOUNG GIANT FROM THE PACIFIC COAST, GOES EAST TO SHOW 'EM

Fight fans in the East have been hearing glowing reports of Eddie Huffman. The more enthusiastic of his admirers have not stopped short of predicting that the young Californian will be the next heavyweight champion of the world. This photograph was taken in New York while he was training for a bout with Jack De Mave, his first eastern appearance.

BIG FOOTBALL GAMES TODAY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 21.—With the classic Yale-Harvard game topping the card, the finale of the 1925 football season started today. Most of the games on the card are traditional fixtures or easy games staged to prepare for the Thanksgiving finals.

With all its traditional color, the last of the Big Three battles between Yale and Harvard at Cambridge will be interesting only to the alumni of the two colleges and those neutrals who might find some pleasure in having lofty Harvard flopped again.

Unless all form goes wrong, it will be another Harvard flopping party with Yale taking great pleasure and keen delight in flopping Harvard again.

Harvard, despite all that may be said, never resigns itself to defeat, and the team will fight harder than it has fought in any other game because a victory over Yale would be a balm to the wounds of the Harvard alumni who have been crucified by looking at the season's record.

Yale has a great team, despite its defeat by Pennsylvania and unless there is a field under water, such as has become fashionable for recent Yale-Harvard games, Yale should win by a fifty score.

The Missouri Valley conference will have a number of annual fixtures of importance and great sectional interest.

Missouri and Kansas will play their annual game at Lawrence and Drake and Ames will do their annual act at Des Moines.

Nebraska, getting ready for the Thanksgiving game against Notre Dame will have a week-end of rest.

The Western conference will also be entertained by an interesting program on which Minnesota will play at Michigan, Wisconsin will play at Chicago, Ohio State will go to Illinois and Northwestern will visit Notre Dame. Michigan looks like a certain winner and Red Grange probably will extend himself to the limit in his last game as a college player.

Knute Rockne obviously thinks that work is a part of a football player's life because he passed up a chance to rest his team for the Nebraska game Thursday by booking Northwestern. The green young Notre Dame team developed so rapidly since being downed by the Army that it looks like a tight game.

Rockne said before the season started that his team probably would lose three games, and it was inferred that he meant the Army, Georgia Tech and Nebraska games. He did lose to the Army, but he beat Georgia Tech and Thursday's game remains to be seen.

Iowa, featuring an All-American candidate, Cowboy Kutsch, one of the great backs of the season, will carry the conference colors to the Pacific coast to play the University of Southern California. It will be an interesting game for no other reason than Howard Jones, Southern California coach will be trying to beat the team that he coached last year.

The big game on the Pacific coast, however, and one of the biggest spectacles of the day, will be staged at Palo Alto with the annual battle between California and Stanford. The competition in the coast conference has been so keen this season that this game may decide the championship.

There are few games of interest in the east. Syracuse and Columbia, which are to meet in New York next Thursday, have easy games to get them ready for what has become one of the most interesting games of the holiday. Syracuse meets Niagara and Columbia plays Alfred.

The Army takes a final tuning up for the Navy game, a week from tomorrow, by playing Ursinus, but the Navy, risking no chances of injury, remains idle for the day.

Pennsylvania, after a terrific schedule, has an off day to rest up for the Cornell game in Philadelphia Thanksgiving Day and Cornell also will be idle.

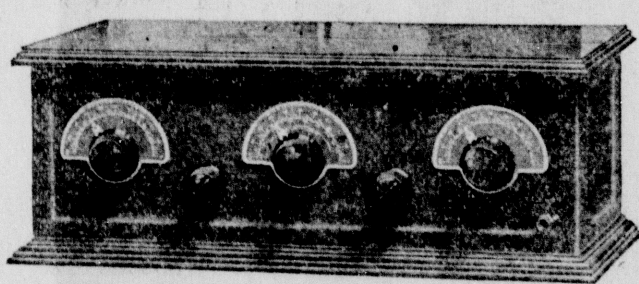

The South still clings to the Thanksgiving Day tradition for big games and all the major Southern teams will be idle for the day and will close the season on Thursday.

MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA AT GRIPS TODAY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—With clear, crisp weather and a moderately fast playing field in prospect the Michigan Wolverines and the Minnesota Gophers meet on Perry Field here this afternoon to decide the western conference championship.

While the Yost men idled away final hours at Barton Hills Country club near here and Coach Spears put the visitors through final practice at Jackson, thousands of rabid Michigan and Minnesota partisans poured into Ann Arbor last night and today. A crowd of 48,000 is expected to pack the stands when the game starts at 2:30 P. M. eastern standard time.

Every man on the Michigan squad is reported in perfect condition for the game, although the Minnesota line-up is expected to suffer from the absence of Captain Ascher, Gary and Hyde, who are suffering from injuries.

The line-ups:
Michigan—Oosterbaan, le; Edwards, lt; Baer, lg; Brown, c; Lovett, rg; Hawkins, rt; Flora, re; Friedman, qb; Gilbert, lhb; Webber or Gregory, rlb; Molenda, fb.

Minnesota—Tuttle, le; Drill, lt; Hanson, lg; MacKinnon, c; Walsh, rg; Meli, rt; Wheeler, re; Arandsee, qb; Almquist, lhb; Murrell, rlb; Joesting, fb.

First Quarter—Michigan won the toss and chose to defend the west goal.

Almquist received Friedman's kick behind the goal line and brought it back 20 yards. Almquist made seven yards on two end runs. Almquist kicked to Gilbert on the Michigan 45 yard line. Molenda plunged three yards through center to the Gopher 41 yard line. Molenda carried the ball eight yards on two off tackle plunges. Friedman was thrown for a short loss on the Gopher 36 yard line. Friedman's attempted place kick went wild and the ball was returned to the Minnesota 20 yard line. Both Joesting and Almquist were stopped in attempts at tackle. Almquist made six yards on a long right end sprint. Michigan was penalized five yards for offside and it was first down for Minnesota on their own 32 yard line. Joesting made five yards through right guard and added four more off left tackle. Joesting then made it first down through center on the 42 yard line.

Two line plunges and an end run gained nothing for Minnesota. Murrell kicked high to Gilbert on Michigan's 35 yard line. Friedman was stopped by Meli for a two-yard loss. Friedman passed 30 yards to Oosterbaan and the ball was given to Michigan because of interference. Another pass, Friedman to Gilbert, put the ball on Minnesota's 25 yard line. Minnesota took time out for consultation. A pass by Friedman was grounded. On the next play Molenda dashed off right tackle for a touchdown. Friedman kicked goal for an extra point. Michigan 7; Minnesota, 0.

Gilbert kicked to Joesting on his five yard line and he returned 30 yards to Minnesota's 35 yard line. Flora threw Almquist for a five yard knock. Flora was knocked out on the play and time was called. Almquist made 7 off Michigan left end. He was slightly injured on the play and time was again taken out.

A long pass, Almquist to Wheeler, was grounded. Friedman returned Murrell's punt 23 yards through a broken field to the Michigan 37 yard line. Oosterbaan and Molenda collided in catching a 25 yard pass by Friedman and it was grounded. Gilbert bucked the line for 4 yards. Oosterbaan dropped another long pass from Friedman. Ascher replaced Arandsee for Minnesota. A Michigan punt put the ball over the Minnesota goal line. Ascher gained 3 yards through center. Baer threw Almquist for a 7 yard loss. Baer stopped Joesting without a gain. The quarter ended with the ball on the Gopher 20 yard line. Score—Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 0.

Second Quarter—Murrell punted to Friedman on the Michigan 35 yard line. Molenda gained two yards at center. Molenda put the ball on the Michigan 41 yard line. Cooper replaced MacKinnon for Minnesota. Gilbert punted to Minnesota's 46 yard line. Baer threw Murrell without gain on an attempted long end run. Almquist suffered a similar fate when he tried the left side of Michigan's line.

Murrell punted to Friedman who was stopped on Michigan 37 yard line. Minnesota was penalized 15 yards for interference. On a line buck by Molenda Michigan was penalized 15 yards for holding. The ball was returned to the Wolverine 34 yard line. Minnesota was penalized five yards for stalling. Gilbert ran through a broken field for 11 yards to the Wolverine 49 yard line. Meli was hurt on the play and replaced by Maeder for Minnesota. Gilbert took the ball to midfield on a short right end run. Gilbert punted to Almquist who was downed in his tracks by Edwards on the Gopher 17 yard line. Joesting made two through center. Almquist circled left end for 11, but was called back and Minnesota penalized five yards offside. Murrell punted from the 11 yard line to Gilbert who returned the ball 45 yards with a broken field run to the Minnesota 23 yard line.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY AGENT

E. G. Roth Reviews Work Accomplished in the Past Year

AGRICULTURE FLOURISHING

Farm Bureau Lauded as Livest Organization Farmer Can Belong To

At the meeting yesterday of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau, held in the county house in this city, County Agent E. G. Roth gave a full and complete, as well as interesting report of the work carried on in this county the past year. His report is as follows:

Agriculture in Crow Wing county, as in other counties of the state, has been shown to be a decidedly more profitable business than in preceding years and we are glad to see conditions in agriculture approaching normal in which a farmer can see his way through financially after a year's work.

To work out a program for the development of the county it is necessary to size up the county as to what is needed in its development. In the first place there is a necessity for the clearing of land on practically every farm, so that a farm may have enough acreage to keep employed the labor that he has.

In the second place Crow Wing county is primarily a dairy and poultry county and these two phases of agriculture have been given the most attention during the past year. First, for successful dairying the feed question is of most importance. Secondly, the stock that it has. In the raising of poultry, the feed and stock in the same way, needs the most attention. In connection with this program, hired help, fertilizing, soil testing, culling, securing of sires and cattle all have received attention.

In following out this program, we have during the past year placed in the county at cost, 60,000 pounds of explosive called Pyrofol, which saved the farmers of the county more than $12,000 alone, besides opening up a large quantity of land on which farmers, heretofore, have been paying taxes and receiving no return.

Alfalfa
The most far-reaching program in county agent work in the past year has been the developing of alfalfa. More than 2,000 acres of this kind of all hay crops was planted this year and has in almost every instance proved a decided success. Alfalfa, equal in food value to bran, solves the farmers' feed question to dairy cows. Seed at cost, true Grimm Alfalfa was made available for the farmers. Grimm Alfalfa is so hardy that it readily winters through our cold season and yields from three to six tons of hay, even on our most sandy land.

This year, as in the past two years, we have shown by our demonstration field at Crow Wing and experimental fields throughout the county that where the land is sour, limestone or marl must be applied for successful growing of the crop. More than 250 samples of soil were tested to find out whether or not the land would grow alfalfa or clover successfully.

We have again carried on a number of experiments with fertilizers on peat, again demonstrating that potash and phosphates are necessary for successful crop growing on our peat land.

In dairying we helped place twelve purebred sires during the year and helped secure forty head of cattle. Six lectures were given on feeding and two on selecting the dairy cow.

Poultry

We believe that the biggest inducement for activity in poultry is the establishing of a good market. Having this in mind, we helped to establish the egg marketing association known as "The Lake Region Co-operative Egg & Poultry Association," to most points in the county, holding numerous meetings in the county for the purpose of explaining the organization and its work. Assistance was given in the Poultry show, at which time 350 birds were shown.

Pickle Station

We again signed 185 acres of cucumbers for a pickle station at Brainerd, giving farmers the opportunity for a cash crop in the fall of the year which this year proved profitable to most of the farmers planting cucumbers.

Fairs

Assistance was given in the county fair and in a number of community fairs, Crosby, Pequot, and Brainerd. The county agent put on the county exhibit at the state fair where thousands of visitors were attracted to the booth.

The county agent has placed on farms in the county more than 200 hired men the past season. Farmers are finding it more and more to their advantage, when needing help, to call up the farm bureau office. Some times the men sent out prove no good, but in most cases have proved to be valuable hired hands.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work

One of the big items worked on in the past year was Boys' and Girls' club work in the county, which as a result of the boys and girls work in dairy club, bread baking, garment making, poultry and potato, made a very successful record, exhibiting at fairs and local community fairs at Crosby, Brainerd and Pequot and at the state fair. Trips and prizes were given to twenty-three boys and girls for the short course in April at St. Paul, and trips to sixteen boys and girls to the state fair during state fair week. Two hundred and fifty boys and girls were enrolled for club work in the county.

farm visits, 88 home visits, spent 210 days in the field and 95 days in the office; 51 circular letters were written with a total circulation of 11,120 letters, 2,167 individual letters were written, 3,853 office calls were received, 2,308 telephone calls received and made, and 2,082 field calls were made. 88 extension articles written, 10,832 miles traveled, and 134 meetings attended with a total attendance of 16,964 people.

There is still a great deal of work to do to develop such a great county as we have here. There is great room for expansion, in agricultural resources, to make better that which we have. We need more farmers in the townships to clear up cut-over districts. We need stronger co-operation between those farmers that we have here. Our dairy cattle are still far below what they might be in comparison with dairy cattle of the dairy sections of the state. Thousands of acres are bringing no return whatever to the county or to the owners. We have thousands of acres of peat land that could scientifically be profitably brought under cultivation. Our poultry industry has not yet been brought to the standard to bring the highest returns. The number of sheep in the county is not what it should be. Our markets can still be improved. The grades of products that we market can be improved. It should be the goal of all of us here today to make better those things that we have and not be satisfied with what we have and let well enough alone, but make the best, better.

Join the farm bureau, the best booster organization that a farmer can belong to, to help get those things for farmers that make farming profitable, respectable and comfortable.

I wish to thank all of you for the support and co-operation that you have given me during the years I have been here and assure you that it has been a pleasure to serve you and will continue to do so to the best of my ability while I am with you.

"OLD IRONSIDES" SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Thursday a Day Long to be Remembered by All Pupils

"OLD IRONSIDES" RECITED

Letter of Pres. Coolidge Read, Elks of Brainerd Lodge Present Picture of Ship

When the boys and girls of every school in the city left their desks on Thursday afternoon, they took home with them a long story to tell about "Old Ironsides" and the program given in connection with the presentation of the picture. It was an event that will long be remembered by every pupil.

Following is a draft of the excellent program that was used in each school on Thursday:

Singing of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" by the school.
Welcome address given by the principal.

Helen Paine—High school.
Ross Olmsted—Whittier school.
Ardan Miller—Lincoln school.
Bernard Fredrickson—Harrison school.

Bernard Shepard—Lowell school.
Hazel Forcier—Riverside school.
Jennie Fremsted—Garfield school.

Then there was the reading of the letter by President Coolidge to the secretary of the navy in which he gave the titles of the essays to be used in the Marion Eppley prize medal competition.

Selections of patriotic music given by the pupils of the school.

Reading, "Preamble of U. S. Constitution" by pupil.

And then came the most important part of the program—the presentation of "Old Ironsides" by an Elk from the Brainerd lodge. This movement was sponsored by the Elks of the county, they receiving the unfurled pictures from the United States Navy. The Parent-Teachers associations of the city are responsible for the framing of the pictures. The Elks upon presenting the picture spoke of the significance and history of "Old Ironsides" and their unrelenting of it was met by many exclamations of surprise from the children.

Michael Marea presented the picture to the high school; James J. Nolan to the Lincoln and Riverside schools; Henry I. Cohen to the Whittier and Harrison schools; Attorney D. H. Fullerton to the Lowell school and Dr. A. K. Cohen, Exalted Ruler of the Elks presented the picture to the Garfield school. John J. Cummings will sometime in the near future present the picture to the Parochial school.

The judges have not yet decided the winner of the Eppley medal for the best essay, but according to Dr. A. K. Cohen this will be done soon.

TELEPHONE RATE RAISE IS SOUGHT

Order Served on City Clerk by Northwestern Bell Telephone Exchange Co.

State Railroad and Warehouse Association to Conduct Same at Court House

The following order was served on the city clerk of this city yesterday in which the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company ask to change and increase its rates for telephone exchange service of the Brainerd exchange. The hearing is set for 10 o'clock a. m. on the first day of December before the Railroad and Warehouse commission and will be held at the court house, in this city. "Whereas, the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company being a corporation, has filed an application with this commission for authority to change its rates for business, residence and rural telephone service within the city of Brainerd, county of Crow Wing, state of Minnesota, the proposed rates and charges being as follows to-wit:

	New rate	Old rate

Two-party line, bus.	4.00-a	3.00
Individual line, res.	2.75-a	2.00
Two-party line, res.	2.25-a	1.75
Four-party line, res.	2.00-a	1.50
Rural multi-party, res.	2.25-a Service station switching charge	7.00 per year

(a) A discount of 25 per cent is allowed from this rate each month in which the subscriber's entire account, including any balance due, is paid on or before the 15th day of that month.

(b) Payable annually in advance. A discount of $1.00 is allowed from this annual charge if paid within the first month of the 12 months for which the bill is rendered."

What President Green of the A. F. of L. Says About 'Labor's Reward'

"I am confident that while viewing this picture men and women will find their feelings alternating between pity and indignation for the wrongs perpetrated upon these defenseless workers in the great industrial group and highest admiration for organized labor and its accomplishments in bringing protection and help into the homes and lives of the unfortunate. The story of the experiences of Mary and her sister and their father is not a story of isolated or extraordinary family experience. Every year there are hundreds of thousands of such cases throughout America."

"Labor's Reward" will be shown in Brainerd next Wednesday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock, at Gardner's auditorium. The picture, which comes to Brainerd through the courtesy of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, has been well received in the twin cities where it was shown last week.

The exhibition of "Labor's Reward" is a part of the nation-wide educational campaign inaugurated by the American Federation of Labor. The general public is invited to see this great motion picture and get first hand information about the labor movement in America.

"SACRED, SECULAR, SAVAGE"

Lecture to be Given on Sunday Night at Scandia Hall

The lectures at Scandia hall being continued every night except Tuesday will be especially favored on Sunday night, Nov. 22, by a visit from Prof. H. M. Hiatt, who will give a lecture on the Indians and their records, showing how their records and incidents corroborate Bible prophecy. In the early days he was a frontiersman, and so has many things of interest from Indian life. The lecture which he will give together with the lantern slides, illustrations, occupied a whole page of the Minneapolis Journal recently, and has also appeared in some of the other prominent papers of the state. There will be many more illustrations than it would be possible to get in a newspaper. A large crowd is expected so it will be necessary to come early to get a seat. All seats are free.

The following lectures of interest will be given during the week, and you will want to hear them as well.

Monday night—"The Fall of Babylon." Her sin and her seven plagues.

Wednesday night—"Restoring the Hole in the Wall." This is a remarkable prophecy.

Thursday night—"Where Are the Dead?" A question of interest to all.

Friday night—"What is the Soul?" Have you ever seen it?

Saturday night—"Hell? Where is It?" Will it last throughout the ceaseless ages of eternity?

Then don't miss the next Sunday night subject on "The United States in Prophecy." You will want to hear what the Bible says concerning it. There is special music every evening and also a fifteen minute song service. Come and help sing. You will enjoy it. This is a week of special interest.

DELEGATES GET THRILL FROM MEET

League of Women Voters Delegates Pleased With St. Paul Convention

Brainerd Delegates Interested in "The Last Word" Presentation

The returning delegates from the seventh annual convention of the League of Women Voters are quite thrilled over the growth of that organization during the last year. Fifteen new, live leagues have been added in fourteen good towns, and the Duluth league has had a wonderful revival.

As the World Court is the particular piece of federal legislation that the league is interested in getting enacted during the coming winter, that subject was particularly stressed.

The world court exhibit was one of the best at the convention. All bridescent globe showed, at each revolution, the inscription: "Law not war," while a commercial airplane encircled the globe about once every half-minute, thus suggesting how small and closely bound together the modern world is. This exhibit was contributed by the Garretts chocolate company and was previously used as a show-window add for their products. At the end of the convention, it will be shipped to Ohio, to be used at their state convention.

The Brainerd delegates were also particularly interested in another exhibit in the lobby of the Saint Paul hotel—the ticket sale for "The Last Word" which is to be given at the Metropolitan theatre on December 5th. Delegates were urged to attend so that they might decide whether or not they cared to produce it in their home towns. Tickets were selling as high as $2.50. A Brainerd delegate suggested to the "Crier" that she say "If you can't come to Minneapolis, come to Brainerd on November 23, and you can see the play for the price of a picture show." But she didn't take kindly to the suggestion.

Whatever costumes Brainerd attics didn't furnish for the play, were arranged for at Glens—the mecca of all amateur theatrical performers.

The Brainerd women in attendance at the convention and institute were: Mrs. E. O. Webb, Miss Genevieve Flannagan and Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

Surprise Party

Theodore Nesheim was pleasantly surprised at his home, 815 South Seventh street, last evening by a number of friends and neighbors.

Mr. Nesheim was presented with a beautiful gift.

The evening was spent informally and enjoyed by all, after which a delicious lunch was served.

The Parent-Teachers associations of the city are responsible for the framing of the pictures. The Elks upon presenting the picture spoke of the significance and history of "Old Ironsides" and their unrelenting of it was met by many exclamations of surprise from the children.

Michael Marea presented the picture to the high school; James J. Neman to the Lincoln and Riverside schools; Henry I. Cohen to the Whittier and Harrison schools; Attorney D. H. Fullerton to the Lowell school and Dr. A. K. Cohen, Exalted Ruler of the Elks presented the picture to the Garfield school. John J. Cummings will sometime in the near future present the picture to the Parochial school.

The judges have not yet decided the winner of the Eppley medal for the best essay; but according to Dr. A. K. Cohen this will be done soon.

"I am confident that while viewing this picture men and women will find their feelings alternating between pity and indignation for the wrongs perpetrated upon these defenseless workers in the great industrial group and highest admiration for organized labor and its accomplishments in bringing protection and help into the homes and lives of the unfortunates. The story of the experiences of Mary and her sister and their father is not a story of isolated or extraordinary family experience. Every year there are hundreds of thousands of such cases throughout America."

"Labor's Reward" will be shown in Brainerd next Wednesday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock, at Gardner's auditorium. The picture, which comes to Brainerd through the courtesy of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, has been well received in the twin cities where it was shown last week.

The exhibition of "Labor's Reward" is a part of the nation-wide educational campaign inaugurated by the American Federation of Labor. The general public is invited to see this great motion picture and get first hand information about the labor movement in America.

"ACRED, SECULAR, SAVAGE"

In an Lecture to be Given on Sunday Night at Scandia Hall

The lectures at Scandia hall being continued every night except Tuesday will be especially favored on Sunday night, Nov. 22, by a visit from Prof. H. M. Hiatt, who will give a lecture on the Indians and their records, showing how their records and incidents corroborate Bible prophecy. In the early days he was a frontiersman, and so has many things of interest from Indian life. The lecture which he will give together with the lantern slides, illustrations, occupied a whole page of the Minneapolis Journal recently, and has also appeared in some of the other prominent papers of the state. There will be many more illustrations than it would be possible to get in a newspaper. A large crowd is expected so it will be necessary to come early to get a seat. All seats are free.

The following lectures of interest will be given during the week, and you will want to hear them as well.

Monday night—"The Fall of Babylon." Her sin and her seven plagues.

Wednesday night—"Restoring the Hole in the Wall." This is a remarkable prophecy.

Thursday night—"Where Are the Dead?" A question of interest to all.

Friday night—"What is the Soul?" Have you ever seen it?

Saturday night—"Hell? Where is it?" Will it last throughout the ceaseless ages of eternity?

Then don't miss the next Sunday night subject on "The United States in Prophecy." You will want to hear what the Bible says concerning it. There is special music every evening and also a fifteen minute song service. Come and help sing. You will enjoy it. This is a week of special interest.

DELEGATES GET THRILL FROM MEET

Brainerd Delegates Interested in "The Last Word" Presentation

The returning delegates from the seventh annual convention of the League of Women Voters are quite thrilled over the growth of that organization during the last year. Fourteen new, live leagues have been added in fourteen good towns, and the Duluth league has had a wonderful revival.

As the World Court is the particular piece of federal legislation that the league is interested in getting enacted during the coming winter, that subject was particularly stressed.

The world court exhibit was one of the best at the convention. An iriscent globe showed, at each revolution, the inscription: "Law not war," while a commercial airplane encircled the globe about once every half-minute, thus suggesting how small and closely bound together the modern world is. This exhibit was contributed by the Garretts chocolate company and was previously used as a show-window add for their products. At the end of the convention, it will be shipped to Ohio, to be used at their state convention.

The Brainerd delegates were also particularly interested in another exhibit in the lobby of the Saint Paul hotel—the ticket sale for "The Last Word" which is to be given at the Metropolitan theatre on December 5th. Delegates were urged to attend so that they might decide whether or not they cared to produce it in their home towns. Tickets were selling as high as $2.50. A Brainerd delegate suggested to the "Crier" that she say "If you can't come to Minneapolis, come to Brainerd on November 23, and you can see the play for the price of a picture show." But she didn't take kindly to the suggestion.

Whatever costumes Brainerd attics didn't furnish for the play, were arranged for at Giesens—the mecca of all amateur theatrical performers. The Brainerd women in attendance at the convention and institute were: Mrs. E. O. Webb, Miss Genevieve Flannagan and Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

CHAPTER XVIII

Rouletta Kirby was awakened by the sound of chopping; in the still, frosty morning the blows of the ax rang out loudly. For a moment she lay staring upward at the sloping roof over her head, studying with sleepy interest the frost-fringe formed by her breath during the night. This fringe was of intricate design; it resembled tatters of filmy lace and certain fragments of it hung down at least a foot, a warning that the day was to be extremely cold. But Rouletta needed no proof of that fact beyond the evidence of her nose, the tip of which was like ice and so stiff that she could barely wrinkle it. She covered it now with a warm palm and manipulated it gently, solicitously.

The chopping abruptly ceased. "Poleon's voice greeted her gaily: 'Bon jour, ma saeur! By golly! You gettin' be de mos' lazy gal! I s'pect you sleep all day only I mak' beeg noise.'

"Good morning!" Rouletta's voice was muffled. As if repeating a lesson, she ran on: "Yes, I feel fine. I had a dandy sleep; didn't cough and my lungs don't hurt. And no bad dreams. So I want to get up. There! I'm well."

"You hungry, too, I bet, eh?" "Oh, I'm dying. And my nose—it won't work."

Doret shouted his laughter. "You wait, I mak' fire quick an' cook de breakfast, den—you nose goin' work all right. I got beeg s'prise for dat lil' nose today."

The top of Rouletta's head, her eyes, then her mouth, came cautiously out from hiding.

"What is it, Poleon? Something to eat?" "Sapre! What I tol' you? Every minute 'eat, eat!' You worse dan harny of Swede. I aint goin' tol' you wat is dis s'prise—bimeby you smell him cookin'."

"Moose meat!" Rouletta cried.

"No!" Poleon vigorously resumed his labor; every stroke of the ax was accompanied "Huh!" "I tol' you not in!" he declared; then after a moment he voiced one word, "Caribou!"

Again Rouletta uttered a famished cry.

Soon the tent strings were drawn and the axman pushed through the door, his arms full of dry spruce wood. He stood smiling down at the face framed snugly in the fox fur; then he dropped his burden and knelt before the stove. In a moment there came a promising crackle, followed quickly by an agreeable flutter which grew into a roar as the stove began to draw.

"Caribou!" Rouletta's eyes were bright with curiosity and an emotion far more material. "Where in the world—?"

"Some hinjun hunter mak' beeg kill. I got more s'prise as dat, too. By golly! Dis goin' be regular Christmas for you."

Rouletta stirred. There was stubborn defiance in her tone when she said: "I'm going to get up and I'm going—outdoors—clothes or no clothes. I'll wrap the robe around me and play I'm a squaw." She checked Poleon's protest. "Oh, I'm perfectly well, and the clothes I have are thick enough."

"Look out you don't freeze yourself. Dat pretty dress you got is give you chillsblain in August." The speaker blew upon his fingers and sat back upon his heels, his eyes twinkling, his brown face wreathed in smiles.

"Then I can do it? You'll let me try?" Rouletta was all eagerness. "Well, talk 'bout dat bimeby. First 'ting we goin' have beeg pot-latch, lak Siwash wedding!" "Goody! Now run away while I get up."

But the man shook his head. "Don't be soch hurry. Dis tent warm slow. Las' night de reever is froze solid so far you look. Pretty queeck people come."

"Do you think they'll have extra clothes—something warm that I can wear?"

"Sure! I fix all dat." Still smiling, Poleon rose and went stooping out of the tent, tying the flaps behind him. A few rods distant was another shelter which he had pitched for himself; in front of it, on a pole provision-cache, were two quarters of frozen caribou meat, and seated comfortably in the snow beneath, eyes fixed upon the prize, were several "husky" dogs of unusual size.

At Poleon's appearance they began to caper and to fawn upon him. "Ho, you ole tief!" he cried, sternly. "You lak steal dose meat, I bet! Well, I eat you 'live.'" Stretching on tiptoe, he removed one of the quarters and bore it into his tent. The dogs gathered just outside the door; cautiously they nosed the canvas aside; and as Poleon set to work with hatchet and hunting-knife their bright eyes followed his every move.

"Non!" he exclaimed, with a ferocious frown. "You don't get so much as I'll smell. You tink ma saeur goin' hungry to feed loafer lak you?" Busby gray tails began to stir, the heads came farther forward, there was a most unmannerly licking of chops. "Gy gar! You sound lak miner-man eatin' soup. Wat for you s'pect nice grub? You don't work none." Poleon removed a layer of fat, divided it, and tossed a portion to each animal. The morsels vanished with a single gulp, with one wolfish click of sharp white teeth. "No, I give you not in!" (To be continued)

Champion Meets Champion

It was a case of champion meeting champion when Horace Lower, chosen as the best dairy calf club member in Kansas, came to the National Dairy Show at Indianapolis to meet Grahaholm Colantha Pauline Segis, the world's champion four-year-old milk and butter producer, who turned out 34,291 pounds of milk and 1,425 pounds of butterfat in a single year. The meeting of the two champions was made possible by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, which furnished the prize trip to Indianapolis for Lower. Lower is no mean dairyman, either. Last year his Korndyke Arthura Segis Lass produced 13,000 pounds of milk and 548 pounds of butterfat, making her the high production cow in the Kansas Cowntesting association.

STOCK UNDER PRESSURE AT WEEK END

New York, Nov. 21.—Stocks were under pressure at the week end following the action of the federal reserve bank at San Francisco in advancing the bank's rate from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent.

Heavy selling went ahead in the first half of the abbreviated session and prices among the speculative leaders were forced down to levels representing substantial recessions from the highs reached on the preceding upswing.

The downward movement was helped ed along by the confused testimony of the mercantile reviews regarding business conditions. Some said the readjustments did not result from any adverse trend in the commercial situation, declaring that continued progress was evident by current statistics. Bradstreets, on the other hand, found irregularity and a slight let down in buying on the same lines due chiefly to weather conditions.

NORTHWEST FARMERS SALES MADE

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Northwest farmers have received $200,000,000 for grain and livestock marketed in the twin cities during the past three months, according to the Northwest National Bank review and government reports issued today.

The bank covers the period from August 1 to November 1. Grain drafts were issued here for a total of $165,000,000 during that time, the review declared.

At the same time government reports state that $35,000,000 has been paid to northwest livestock raisers from the market at South St. Paul. The average price per head for cattle was $45.

The total payments for cattle was $18,000,000, for hogs $14,000,000, for sheep $2,500,000, for calves $1,500,000.

The Way It Works

Improvements were also reported in the dairying business. The bank pointed out that the huge total for farmers has created an enormous potential purchasing power, liquidated debts and strengthened banks.

COTTON PRODUCTION

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—A United States cotton production of 15,298,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was forecast by the United States agricultural department today on the basis of November 14 indications.

Last year the production was 13,627,936 bales, the highest in five years.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having occurred in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 1st day of November, A. D. 1920, made, executed and delivered by H. L. Iverson and Anna Iverson, his wife, of the County of Hennepin, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, to William Musolf, of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, as mortgagee and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on the 8th day of November, A. CHAPTER XVIII

Rouletta Kirby was awakened by the sound of chopping; in the still, frosty morning the blows of the ax rang out loudly. For a moment she lay staring upward at the sloping roof over her head, studying with sleepy interest the frost-fringe formed by her breath during the night. This fringe was of intricate design; it resembled tatters of filmy lace and certain fragments of it hung down at least a foot, a warning that the day was to be extremely cold. But Rouletta needed no proof of that fact beyond the evidence of her nose, the tip of which was like ice and so stiff that she could barely wrinkle it. She covered it now with a warm palm and manipulated it gently, solicitously.

The chopping abruptly ceased. "Poleon's voice greeted her gaily: "Bon jour, ma saeur! By golly! You gettin' to be a mose' lazy gal! I expect you sleep all day only I mak' beeg noise."

"Good morning!" Rouletta's voice was muffled. As if repeating a lesson, she ran out: "Yes, I feel fine. I had a dandy sleep; didn't cough and my lungs don't hurt. And no bad dreams. So I want to get up. There! I'm well."

"You hungry, too, I bet, eh?" "Oh, I'm dying. And my nose—it won't work."

Doret shouted his laughter. "You wait. I mak' fire queeck an' cook de breakfast, den—you nose goin' work all right. I got beeg s'prise for dat I'll nose today."

The top of Rouletta's head, her eyes, then her mouth, came cautiously out from hiding.

"What is it, Poleon? Something to eat?" "Sapre! What I tol' you? Every minute 'eat, eat!' You worse dan harmy of Swede. I aint goin' tol' you wat is dis s'prise—bimeby you smell him cookin'."

"Moose meat!" Rouletta cried. "Not!" Poleon vigorously resumed his labor; every stroke of the ax was accompanied "Huh!" "I tol' you not!" he declared; then after a moment he voiced one word, "Caribou!"

Again Rouletta uttered a famished cry.

Soon the tent strings were drawn and the axman pushed through the door, his arms full of dry spruce wood. He stood smiling down at the face framed snugly in the fox fur; then he dropped his burden and knelt before the stove. In a moment there came a promising crackle, followed quickly by an agreeable flutter which grew into a roar as the stove began to draw.

"Caribou!" Rouletta's eyes were bright with curiosity and an emotion far more material. "Where in the world—?"

"Some hinjun hunter mak' beeg kill. I got more s'prise as dat, too. By golly! Dis goin' be regular Chris'mas for you."

Rouletta stirred. There was stubborn defiance in her tone when she said: "I'm going to get up and I'm going—outdoors—clothes or no clothes. I'll wrap the robe around me and play I'm a squaw." She checked Poleon's protest. "Oh, I'm perfectly well, and the clothes I have are thick enough."

"Look out you don't freeze yourself. Dat pretty dress you got is give you chilblain in. Haugust." The speaker blew upon his fingers and sat back upon his heels, his eyes twinkling, his brown face wreathed in smiles.

"Then I can do it? You'll let me try?" Rouletta was all eagerness. "Well talk 'bout dat bimeby. First t'ing we goin' have beeg potlach, lak Siwash weddin'."

"Goody! Now run away while I get up."

But the man shook his head. "Don't be soch hurry. Dis tent warm slow. Las' night de reever is froze solid so far you look. Pretty queeck people come."

"Do you think they'll have extra clothes—something warm that I can wear?"

"Sure! I fix all dat." Still smiling, Poleon rose and went stooping out of the tent, tying the flaps behind him. A few rods distant was another shelter which he had pitched for himself; in front of it, on a pole provision-caribou, were two quarters of frozen caribou meat, and seated comfortably in the snow beneath, eyes fixed upon the prize, were several "husky" dogs of unusual size.

At Poleon's appearance they began to caper and to fawn upon him. "Ho, you ole t'iefs!" he cried, sternly. "You lak steal dose meat, I bet! Well, I eat you 'live." Stretching on tiptoe, he removed one of the quarters and bore it into his tent. The dogs gathered just outside the door; cautiously they nosed the canvas aside; and as Poleon set to work with hatchet and hunting-knife their bright eyes followed his every move.

"Non!" he exclaimed, with a ferocious frown. "You don't get so much as I'll smell. You t'ink ma saeur goin' hongry to feed loafer lak you?" Bushy gray tails began to stir, the heads came farther forward, there was a most unmannerly sounding of chops. "Gy gar! You sound lak miner-man eatin' soup. Wat for you s'pect nice grub? You don't work none." Poleon removed a layer of fat, divided it, and tossed a portion to each animal. The morsels vanished with a single gulp, with one wolfish cluck of sharp white teeth. "No, I give you not in." (To be continued)

Sunday and Monday at the Lyceum

Fights between heroes and villains are every minute occurrences on the screen, but in "Black Cyclone," the Hal Roach Pathé feature starring Rex, the King of wild horses, showing Sunday and Monday at the Lyceum theatre, audiences may see the most unusual fight ever screened. This is between Rex, a young stallion, just testing his magnificent strength, and a black and white spotted horse that has never been defeated—a horse that always slays and is therefore known as the Killer.

There are other fights, too, with Rex attacking a wolf pack, and slaying a cougar about to leap on a sleeping man. Fred Jackman, who directed "The King of Wild Horses," which was a sensation, directed "Black Cyclone," which promises to be an even greater sensation.

Improvements were also reported in the dairying business. The bank pointed out that the huge total for farmers has created an enormous potential purchasing power, liquidated debts and strengthened banks.

COTTON PRODUCTION—Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—A United States cotton production of 15,298,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was forecast by the United States agricultural department today on the basis of November 14 indications.

Last year the production was 13,627,936 bales, the highest in five years.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having occurred in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 1st day of November, A. D. 1920, made, executed and delivered by H. L. Iverson and Anna Iverson, his wife, of the County of Hennepin, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, to William Musolf, of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, as mortgagee and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on the 31st day of November, A. D. 1920, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., and duly recorded in Book 21 of Mortgages, on page 513; which said mortgage was thereafter assigned by said William Musolf to Capital Trust & Savings Bank, a Minnesota corporation, of St. Paul, Ramsey County, Minnesota, by an instrument in writing, dated the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1921, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on the 4th day of May, A. D. 1921, at 4 o'clock P. M., and duly recorded in Book 21 of Mortgages, on page 157.

Whereas the said default consists in the failure of said mortgagors to pay the principal and interest due November 1st, 1925, on the certain promissory note for which said mortgage was given as security, and there is due at the date of this notice the sum of Three Thousand One Hundred Ninety and 60/100 Dollars ($3,190.60).

And no action or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt of said mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the Power of Sale in said mortgage contained, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the property described in said mortgage and located in Crow Wing County, Minnesota, to-wit: The Southeast quarter (SE¼) of Section Number Eight (8) of Township Number One Hundred Thirty-six, (136) North, of Range Number Twenty-seven, (27) also Lot Number Eight, (8) of Section Number Nine (9) Township Number One Hundred Thirty-six, (136) North of Range Twenty-seven (27) West of the Fifth Principal Meridian in Crow Wing County, Minnesota, containing Two Hundred Seven and Eight One Hundredths Acres more or less according to the U. S. Government survey thereof, together with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, at Public Auction to be made by the Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, at the main front door entrance of the Court House in the City of Brainerd, County of Crow Wing, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of January, A. D. 1926, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount which will be due under said mortgage on the date of sale, together with costs and disbursements of sale, including statutory attorney's fees, provided for in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure thereof, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale.

Dated November 21st, 1925.
Capital Trust & Savings Bank, Attorney for Assignee of Mortgage, 100 Capital Bank Building,
St. Paul, Minnesota. 14616Sat

Champion Meets Champion

It was a case of champion meeting champion when Horace Lower, chosen as the best dairy calf club member in Kansas, came to the National Dairy Show at Indianapolis to meet Grahaholm Colantha Pauline Segis, the world's champion four-year-old milk and butter producer, who turned out 34,291 pounds of milk and 1,425 pounds of butterfat in a single year. The meeting of the two champions was made possible by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, which furnished the prize trip to Indianapolis for Lower. Lower is no mean dairyman, either. Last year his Korndyke Arthura Segis Lass produced 13,000 pounds of milk and 548 pounds of butterfat, making her the high production cow in the Kansas Cownesting association.

STOCK UNDER PRESSURE AT WEEK END

New York, Nov. 21.—Stocks were under pressure at the week end following the action of the federal reserve bank at San Francisco in advancing the bank's rate from 3½ to 4 per cent.

Heavy selling went ahead in the first half of the abbreviated session and prices among the speculative leaders were forced down to levels representing substantial recessions from the highs reached on the preceding upswing.

The downward movement was helped along by the confused testimony of the mercantile reviews regarding business conditions. Some said the readjustments did not result from any adverse trend in the commercial situation, declaring that continued progress was evident by current statistics. Bradstreets, on the other hand, found irregularity and a slight let down in buying on the same lines due chiefly to weather conditions.

The market closed lower.

NORTHWEST FARMERS SALES MADE

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Northwest farmers have received $200,000,000 for grain and livestock marketed in the twin cities during the past three months, according to the Northwest National Bank review and government reports issued today.

The bank covers the period from August 1 to November 1. Grain drafts were issued here for a total of $165,000,000 during that time, the review declared.

At the same time government reports state that $35,000,000 has been paid to northwest livestock raisers from the market at South St. Paul. The average price per head for cattle was $45.

The total payments for cattle was $18,000,000, for hogs $14,000,000, for sheep $2,500,000, for calves $1,500,000.

ORITIES SAY

Superior, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—In modern Robin Hood style, five bandits robbed the Superior postoffice of $75,000 worth of stamps and $125 in cash today.

They robbed Assistant Postmaster C. J. McGill of his keys, forced him to divulge the combination of the postoffice safe and robbed it.

Every detail of this daring piece of banditry had been worked out in advance and sheriff's deputies said they thought it looked like an inside job. Postmaster F. S. Thompson, however, is confident it was not.

Just as McGill and members of his family were about to retire a man rang the door bell. McGill answered. The man brushed past him and in an excited manner inquired:

"Where is the young man?"

McGill was shoved into a chair. He did not answer.

"I know where he is. He's upstairs shaving," the man challenged. Just then four masked men followed the intruder into the room. McGill attempted to rise and was told to remain quiet.

"We're here on business," said the leader of the gang as he donned a mask.

Two of the bandits went upstairs and returned with Leon McGill, 30, and Emmet McGill, 25. They were ordered into the living room.

McGill and his two sons were bound. Irene McGill, 32, and Miss Irene Olson, a high school girl, were ordered to sit quietly on aavenport. The men ranged themselves about the room and inquired for Mrs. McGill, who, with another daughter, is vacationing in New Mexico.

All of the men seemed fairly well educated, McGill said today, and all were well dressed. They did not divulge their intentions for a time. Then they requested McGill to turn over his keys to the post office.

After parrying their demands McGill gave up the keys. He was then threatened dramatically as the bandits tried to force him to divulge the combination of the post office safe. Finally his daughter was threatened. Alarmed, McGill revealed the combination and one of the bandits wrote it down triumphantly.

After five hours of wearying conversation, all but one of the bandits left. The terrified group heard them drive away in a car. One man remained with guns in his lap watching every movement of the family.

The bandits used a pass key to enter the basement of the post office. They awaited the night watchman there, Ambrose Sherman, 35. As Sherman entered the furnace room at 2 A. M. they pounced on him, bound and gagged him.

Sherman was taken upstairs and hurled on a pile of mail sacks. Then the bandits entered the vault, worked the combination and rifled the safe. That done they wired Sherman inside the vault and closed the door. He was a prisoner there until 4:40 A. M.

About 3:30 A. M. the four bandits returned to the McGill home and picked up their companion. Fifteen minutes later sheriff's deputies took up a cold trail. No one had seen the car the bandits used.

MINOT WELCOMES
JUNIOR LIVESTOCK
EXHIBITS TRAIN

Minot, N. D., Nov. 21.—(UP)—What is thought to be the largest crowd to inspect prize winning junior livestock exhibits since the show at St. Paul turned out here last night to greet the special train touring the northwest.

Mayor J. H. Bratberg gave the official welcome. The exhibitors were entertained with a motor trip through the city and a banquet at the Young Men's Christian association in the evening.

IMPRESSIVE
FUNERAL FOR QUEEN MOTHERPRIVATE SERVICE HELD THIS MORNING AT DEATH BED
OF QUEENTO BE LAID AT REST IN ST.
GEORGE'S CHAPEL, WIND-
SOR CASTLE

By CLIFFORD E. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, Nov. 21.—The most impressive funeral England has known since the death of King Edward in 1910, is planned for his widow, the Queen Mother Alexandra, who died yesterday.

The funeral services will be held Friday. The Lord Chamberlain went today to Sandringham where the royal family keeps watch over its dead, to receive from King George the royal commands as to arrangements for the services.

A private service was held this morning at the death bed of the queen in Sandringham, with only the royal family present.

Queen Alexandra, mourned wherever the Union Jack waves, will probably be laid at rest in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, near King Edward, in the vaults where eight of England's kings repose.

It was her oft expressed wish that she be buried in this regal company of the dead.

It is likely that her body will pass along the same route that King Edward's did and that she will lie in state in London, probably in Westminster Abbey.

Britain will be in official mourning for three months for the aged dowager queen.

Denmark, first home of the "Sea King's Daughter From Over the Seas," joined Britain and the Danish king ordered his court to go into mourning for four weeks.

I KILLED, 7 HRT
IN RAILROAD
CROSSING MISHAPS

Willmar, Minn., Nov. 21.—(UP)—One person has been killed and seven others injured in railroad crossing accidents near here in the past week.

J. Vandersnieck was killed at Garretson, N. D., by train No. 32 when the automobile he was driving was struck. A companion was seriously injured.

Nick Dullinger was struck by a freight train at Roscoe. Three persons with him escaped serious injury.

Vern Burke was seriously injured when a silk train hit his truck at De Graff. He is at a local hospital recovering.

BLASTS STUMPS AND LOSES HAND

Hutchinson, Minn., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Premature explosion of a dynamite charge set off by P. T. Mullin, who was blasting stumps on his farm near here, burned his hand so badly amputation was necessary. Mullin also suffered severe burns on his face and body. He is expected to recover.

HIGH SCHOOL
GIRL THOUGHT
KIDNAPEDRUTH JONES, AGED 16, OF ST.
PAUL, DISAPPEARED THURS-DAY NIGHTHER HAT, FOUND ON STREET NEAR SCHOOL, IS ONLY
TRACE FOUND

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Ruth Jones, pretty 16 year old high school girl, who disappeared Thursday night, was today believed the victim of a kidnaper.

The girl had been attending an education week program at school in the evening, promising her parents to be home at 9:30 P. M. She started out alone shortly before that. It was a distance of only three blocks.

When she failed to arrive at the promised time, her family investigated and notified police. Her hat, found on the street near the school is the only trace in a day and night of frantic searching.

Other girls have been pursued by a lone man in an automobile in the same neighborhood recently, police have learned. Two were accosted the same evening Ruth disappeared. Authorities believe location of the "masher" will solve their latest mystery.

U. S. TURNS DOWN DOWN RUMANIAN
DEBT FUND PROFFER

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The United States today turned down the Rumanian proposal for funding that nation's $46,000,000 war debt to this country and has made a counter proposal containing less lenient terms.

The Rumanian proposal and the American counter proposal were made at a meeting of the debt commissions of the two nations here today.

MOTION OF THE
NEW TRIAL FAILSDENIED IN DISTRICT COURT BY JUDGE R. D.
O'BRIENGLEEMANS NOW SERVING LIFE SENTENCES FOR SLAYING OF
BURT STEVENS

St. Paul, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The motion of Ben and Abe Gleeman for a new trial was denied today in district court by Judge R. D. O'Brien.

Now serving life sentences for the murder of Burt Stevens in a bootleg war, the Gleemans filed affidavits some time ago charging that they were railroaded to jail to protect their employers, heads of the alleged Twin Cities liquor syndicate.

Carl Cummins, attorney for the convicts, announced that the decision will be appealed to the supreme court.

Before denying the motion, Judge O'Brien ruled out Cummins' request for a delay to obtain affidavits from George Hurley, under arrest in Chicago, charged with complicity in the crime. Hurley, Cummins told the court, would swear the two Gleemans were not at the scene of the fatal shooting and knows who was.

Morris Miller, the St. Louis gunman, as the Gleemans have named as the real slayer of Stevens, could be arrested any time, Cummins told the court he had been informed by government officials. H. H. Peterson, county attorney, has persistently maintained that Miller is a myth.

TITIAN PAINTING
SOLD MPLS. INSTITUTE
FOR $200,000

New York, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Sale of a Titian painting valued at $200,000 to the Minneapolis Institute of Arts has been negotiated by the Rheinhardt galleries.

The picture, "The Temptation of Christ," portrays the Savior tempted by a youth, who holds in his hand, a stone, challenging Christ to perform the miracle of turning it into bread, thus to prove He is indeed the Son of God.

Phillippe, Duc d'Orleans and regent of France, the great Titian collector of his day, purchased the painting from Chevalier de Loraine. Its sale price was one of the largest in the history of any American museum.

WORLD COURT POLLS 79 VOTES
IN THE SENATE

Washington, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, assured President Coolidge today that the world court plan which Mr. Coolidge strongly endorsed in his New York address, would receive 79 votes in the senate when American adherence is taken up.

Lenroot conferred with the president on legislative problems of the coming session of congress. He declined to comment on other questions with which he and the president are concerned.

Lenroot discounted the world court modification of proposals and expressed the belief adherence would be approved substantially as submitted.

CHEMIST FINDS CHLOROFORM IN BABY'S ORGANSBODY OF THE ALLEN BABY OF
CHICAGO TO BE EX-
HUMEDDR. WM. O. KROHN, NOTED
ALIENIST, HAS MOTHER UN-
DER OBSERVATION

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Mrs. Grace A. Allen, 35, wife of a wealthy Chicago business man, was questioned throughout the night and until an early hour this morning in connection with the investigation into the death of her five weeks old baby.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe personally directed the examination and later called in Dr. William O. Krohn, noted alienist, to observe Mrs. Allen.

In another room John R. Allen, the husband, was questioned.

The body of the child, buried two days ago will be exhumed for further examination, it was announced. This decision was made early today when the city chemist reported he had found traces of chloroform in the vital organs of the child. Dr. William D. McNally, the chemist, said he found indications that the child had been fed chloroform with its milk.

Mrs. Allen told police she did not recall whether she had prepared the bottle of milk on the night of the tragedy.

"It might have been Miss Frogen, the nurse," she told Crowe. "I do not recall. First, Miss Frogen gave him a little of the milk and then I took him and the bottle to the bedroom alone, where he had the rest of the milk."

Crowe said he learned that Mrs. Allen felt a dread of childbirth. The Allens have been married nine years and this was their first child. Some months before the baby was born, Mrs. Allen suffered a nervous breakdown.

Miss Caroline Frogen, the nurse, also was questioned by Crowe and his assistants, as were other persons who know the Allens.

The Allens said they believed the child was smothered to death by burglars.

Benson—Mrs. Julius Thorson, who was injured in an automobile accident yesterday was recovering last night. She is the wife of the state democratic chairman.

GERMAN REICHSRAT
APPROVES LOCARNO
SAFETY TREATY

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The reichsrat today approved the Locarno safety treaties by a vote of 46 to 4 with 14 abstaining.

The reichsrat, somewhat similar to the American senate, has delegates from each German state.

The treaties come up next week in the reichstag on a vote to approve their signing. The passage now appears certain.

COMMERCIAL AVIATION GIVEN
ANOTHER IMPETUSP. O. DEPARTMENT TO OPEN
BIDS FOR MANY AIR
MAIL ROUTESBETWEEN CLEVELAND AND DE-
DETROIT, ETC.

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Development of commercial aviation in the United States will take on new momentum today when the postoffice department opens bids for air mail routes between Cleveland and Detroit, Chicago and Detroit and Chicago and New Orleans.

Henry Ford, automobile magnate, who is branching out in the aviation field, is expected to bid for both Detroit lines. Ford, postal authorities said, wanted to carry the mail on these routes free of charge, but as this was not permissible, Postmaster General New called for bids on the lines.

The three new routes will connect with the government operated transcontinental system. In addition to carrying the mail the new lines will be permitted to transport freight and passengers at commercial rates for the operators' own profit.

Should the lines be awarded to contractors the mail service would start in the spring, with round trips daily between the station cities.

LOST BRITISH MONITOR MET SAME
FATE AS THE S-51

London, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The lost British monitor submarine M-1 met a fate similar to the United States submarine S-51.

This was revealed today when the admiralty announced that a report of the master of the steamer Vidar of Stockholm and examination of the Vidar's hull showed the M-1 disaster was due to a collision with the steamer.

BEER WAR IN CHICAGO IS CONTINUINGTWO MORE KILLINGS ADDED TO
LIST OF FATAL-
TIESPOLICE BELIEVE THEY ARE OUT-
COME OF AMATUNA
SLAYING

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—With two killings more added to the list of beer war fatalities, police today looked for further depopulation of the local colony of gangsters.

Abraham Goldstein, better known as "Pete the Peddler" and known as an intimate of "Samoots" Amatuna, slain beer baron, was shot to death in a drug store last night. Two men riddled him with bullets and then drove away.

About the same time Marion Mascarelli, former deputy sheriff, was shot to death by three men. He managed to empty his revolver at the men as he sank dying to the crowd, but none of the assailants was hurt.

Police believe the two killings are an outgrowth of the Amatuna slaying. One man was killed shortly after the Amatuna funeral, making three deaths so far in the battle of the various beer running factions.

STEPHENSON IN GRIM PRISONFORMER DRAGON BOASTING HE WAS THE LAW, NOW NAME-
LESS CONVICT

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 21.—(UP)—D. C. Stephenson, convicted murderer of Miss Madge Oberholzer former dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, the man who boasted he was the law, today became a nameless convict in the state penitentiary.

The sheriff's automobile carrying the former dragon, arrived in the prison court yard at 11:12. Prison officials were awaiting.

None of the nonchalance that marked the convicted man's manner throughout the trial, left him as he faced a life of imprisonment. Smiling and joking, he walked with the little group of officers to the offices where he lost his worldly identity.

DIVORCE CASERUMORS THAT RHINELANDER
TLEMENTDAUGHTER OF CAB DRIVER RU-MORED MAY GET
$300,000

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Dispute between leading counsel for Leonard Kip Rhinelander was a much discussed possibility today as speculation in regard to the abrupt week-end adjournment in his sensational annulment trial.

Former Judge Isaac N. Mills, trial counsel for young Rhinelander, who charges that his wife deceived him as to her color, is reported in disagreement with Leon R. Jacobs, attorney of record, who prepared the case for the young aristocrat, which Mills is arguing in court.

While Mills made a categorical denial of any such act, he said he had no appointment with Jacobs until Monday morning in the court room. "Of course, if Jacobs wants to see me he knows where my office and my home are," Mills added.

Meanwhile rumors have become insistent that Rhinelander is seeking a financial settlement with his wife, who was Alice Jones, daughter of a Negro cabman. The reported amount runs as high as $300,000. It is understood that if the aristocratic boy consents to dismissal of the annulment action his attorneys will arrange a Paris divorce.

AIRPLANE FELL;
AVIATORS UNHURT

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Joseph Hinrey and Rube Grabe, Madison, escaped serious injury today when the airplane in which they were planning on making a flight to the state capital fell and was reduced to wreckage in a wooded swamp near here. Both men sustained minor cuts.

Engine trouble and flying too low a level to permit a safe landing place was the cause of the accident.

HIT AND RUN ACCIDENT KILLS
SUPERIOR MAN

Superior, Wis., Nov. 21.—(UP)—A large touring car ran down and killed an unidentified man here today and escaped from the scene of the accident. The car was driving south through the city at a high rate of speed, according to witnesses. A search for the automobile is underway.

IDENTIFY TWO VICTIMS OF AUTO PLUNGE

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Police today identified two victims of an automobile plunge into Detroit river here last night as Edward J. Byrne, Philadelphia, and Fred R. Warden of Detroit.

Both were killed when their sedan skidded at the foot of Second avenue and plunged over a dock into 25 feet of water.

DOWNTHE ATTACKS HAVE OCCURRED
WEEKS

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The most intensive manhunt in the annals of Toledo was under way today for the fiend, who, wielding a club, has struck down seven women here causing the death of two of them.

The man, characterized as the "Monster of the Night," struck down Mrs. Kathryn Knight, a housewife, last night, and two hours later made an unsuccessful attempt to club Miss Pauline Winover, a salesgirl.

The attacks have occurred over a period of six weeks. One of the man's victims died from her injuries and a second was found dead between two houses, her body mutilated.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano "Makes Good" --- Yet It Costs Only $520

The piano that you intend for yourself and your loved ones—if it is to be a good investment—must possess these characteristics:

Mellowness of tone
Quick responsiveness to touch
High musical quality
Beauty of design and finish
Unquestioned integrity of workmanship.

The lack of any one or more of these essential features in the piano you purchase will defeat your purpose, for you would be getting less than you should have, in order to completely satisfy your own and your children's musical requirements.

The Hobart M. Cable Piano measures full up to the standard set up above, no matter how critically you may examine it or "try it out"—as more than one thousand satisfied owners in and around Brainerd will tell you.

Come in, and let us show it to you. Hear it for yourself. A moderate down payment and comfortable weekly, monthly, or quarterly terms of payment will be arranged to make the owning easy. If you have an old piano, we'll accept it in part payment at a fair valuation.

Get This Idea:

If saving a dollar or so a week at compound interest seems slow, think what it does: Makes you economize a little somewhere to do it—starts a habit. Then the habit tackles and trims other expenses; and others, one by one. Thus you become a practiced economizer and savings mount into capital.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS
By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

The world has usually been slow to appreciate the worth of its geniuses and outstanding leaders. New ideas have always had to fight for their lives. History is full of the stories of successful failures.
Cervantes, the greatest of all Spanish novelists, died in poverty, neglected and ignored. His grave is unmarked and the place of his birth is unknown. Although a gallant soldier of the king his loyalty went unrewarded except for the honorable scars he carried to his grave. It is doubtful whether a hundred people in Spain in 1616 believed that a genius had died, yet his one book, Don Quixote, has gone through more than 300 editions and has been translated into more languages than any other piece of literature in the world except the Bible and Pilgrim's Progress.
Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which now adorns the walls of offices, universities, libraries and homes, did not receive editorial mention in a single newspaper in the nation at the time of its delivery, except in terms of ridicule and derision. The files of the papers during the days of the Civil war show Mr. Lincoln to have been a man in high disfavor with enemies and supporters alike.
John Fitch, the man who first operated a steamboat, exhibiting his invention before the members of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787, was considered a crank and a visionary. George Washington thought so little of the steamboat exhibition that he accepted a dinner invitation for the same hour and did not attend, although the convention adjourned for the purpose of being present.
Charles Goodyear failed for eleven years in his search for some means of vulcanizing rubber and finally died in poverty and was carried to his grave in obscurity. Now the world rides on air as a result of his labors.
Jesus of Nazareth died upon a cross between two thieves, the most ignominious death that could be inflicted in His day. He left less than one hundred and fifty loyal followers, no books, no writings and no organization. Yet the world dates all its legal documents in reference to the day of his birth and his ideals are more influential in determining the life and destiny of more people in the world than any other man who ever lived.
No man is a failure because the crowd has rejected him. "Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again," and a great work, well done, will never die. Our town, too, is full of successful failures: Men and women who have succeeded in building great characters and no fortunes.

Mr. Lind has had considerable experience in evangelistic work with various parties throughout the country and is one who will have messages worth hearing. There will be special music by the choir at the morning service. They will render "Praise to the Lord" by Carrie B. Adams and "Let Us Sing Unto the Lord" by E. S. Lorenz. At the evening service the girls' chorus will render "It Is a Good Thing" by Ira B. Wilson.
There remains but two weeks to close our "Square Up, Pay Up" campaign and there is considerable to raise in order to go over the top. This will only be accomplished by your help. Can we count on you? By vote of the church there will be a special thank offering taken up next Sunday, Nov. 29th, to go for this campaign and for missions in accordance with the way the same may be designated by the givers. Don't forget to bring the special envelopes for this offering next Sunday in addition to the regular envelopes.
Dr. Clark, a missionary who has been forty-five years in the Belgian Congo, will be with us next Sunday. He is one of the great missionaries of the world and he will have wonderful messages. There will be no prayer meeting next Thursday but the members are invited to join in the Union services on that day.

A pledge of fair dealing

The strongest pledge of friendship and fair dealing known to the early Norsemen was the simple act of one man placing his hand between the hands of another. Ruthless, terrible and cruel as the Vikings were, no man broke this pledge without forfeiting his honor and the friendship of every true man.

Today modern business forms friends in every corner of the world through the pledge of the printed word. Advertisements are pledges made especially for you . . . pledges that advertised goods you buy are exactly as claimed.

No sane business man would advertise an unworthy product. Nothing could bring ruin more quickly. For when a product is advertised, it invites the criticism of millions of people. It must make good its claims, or it forfeits the patronage of thousands.

A product that is not advertised may be worth buying. But it is little known and its merit or unworthiness lies hid in comparative security. Every product you see advertised must be worthy. It is tested daily by thousands. It is proved in the pitiless glare of publicity—pledged to you in the advertising columns regularly.

Read the advertisements to know which goods are advertised.

An advertiser's pledge can be redeemed only by your entire satisfaction

ANY FOOL CAN DRIVE FAST

"ANY fool can drive fast," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, in a recent interview. The automobile driver who goes faster does not drive better, in Mr. Hayes' opinion, and times have changed since the fast driver was considered a good driver. Good drivers are made through experience and education, he added, and are always on the alert for danger.

Here are some signs by which to identify those whom Mr. Hayes calls good drivers:

"The good driver stops at railroad crossings and looks both ways before crossing.

"On grades he travels in low speed.

"He stops and blows his horn before emerging from an alley. He signals his intentions to those in the rear.

"He never pulls away from a curb without looking back to see if the road is clear.

"He gets on the inside lane of travel when turning left and he pulls over near the curb when turning right.

"He never passes another car going in the same direction at a street intersection; he knows pedestrians are injured that way.

"He slows down when passing schools, churches or buildings where public gatherings take place.

"He never passes another car on a hill or curve.

"He gives the right of way to cars approaching from the right.

"He slows down to ten miles an hour at street car crossings.

"He is courteous to other motorists and to pedestrians.

"He knows the laws and ordinances and obeys them. Everyone likes to ride with the good driver."

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

MINNESOTA'S State Fair will be held from September 4 to 11, in 1926, it was officially decided by the Board of Managers at its last monthly meeting. Though the fair is months away, the Fair Board publishes a magazine, "Minnesota State Fair News," giving an account of activities under way for the 1926 exposition.

THE DISPATCH was honored this year by having an editorial on the fair reproduced by President Roe and used in publicity work. It related to the educational value of the fair.

The 1925 State Fair, from many viewpoints, was the best ever staged by the State Agricultural Society. Although the report on the year's activities will not be available until November 30, when the fiscal year ends, officials are agreed that the last fair was the banner one in all respects, excepting possibly profits. It is believed, however, that the fair will show a small operating profit when the books are closed.

The educational exhibits this year were easily the best the fair has ever presented. This is true both as to quality and quantity. The livestock show was especially noteworthy and the agricultural and horticultural exhibits also excelled those of other years.

CONTROL OF THE AIR

BRAINERD is not the only town striving to "clear the air" and give the radio full play. It is suspected that our local interference includes power leakage and a "trouble shooter," Everett McQuillin, has been named by the radio society to locate the center of disturbances.

The Park Rapids Enterprise notes that control of the air is one of the problems of the present, even in the smaller towns, including Park Rapids. There are radio sets and radio sets and some of them are said to produce an excruciating squeal whenever the operator tries to tune in on the evening program.

Those who have other machines with the squeal eliminated, and an interest in maintaining the best possible conditions for radio pleasures, would like to protest the operation of the interfering machines, but to whom and with what effect is the problem.

We are no authority on radios, but we believe that unskillful tuning in has an effect on radios in the vicinity. A step in the solution of the larger air troubles is the suggestion that Hoover be made the Landis of the air with full power to settle all difficulties.

RELY ON MAN OF EXPERIENCE

THE Elk River Star News states editorially that Cass county and Hubbard county are said to be grooming candidates for Congress to take Harold Knutson's scalp next year. A congressman becomes more valuable to his district the longer he serves. That is why the east is more powerful in Congress than the western states.

They keep a man in Congress for long periods and their representatives have more influence as a result than the western congressmen. The Sixth Minnesota district appears to have adopted this plan and Knutson seems to have a pretty firm hold upon the voters as rival candidates have found out in the past few years.

THE Lum family have disposed of their interest in the Staples World and the new editor is Howard (Doc) Sims, of Pickneyville, Illinois. Mrs. Sims was born of a newspaper family, learned the business while growing up and loves the smell of printers ink.

NEW YORK city isn't the only place where cafes and restaurants, etc., are being padlocked for violation of prohibition laws. At Brownville recently a soft drink parlor and pool hall was closed and padlocked for a year.

WHEN the car of Deputy Sheriff Larson of Beltrami county broke down, the official continued his way on foot and walked 40 miles to serve papers in a case.

THE Mitchell trial is bringing out a lot of plane talk, says Billy Noonan in the Baudette Region.

"WHEN admiring a mule," says the Life Extension Bureau, "always stand in front of him."

THANKSGIVING

THE old fashioned Thanksgiving, with all the members of the family gathered at one home, and the house filled with elusive odors of delicious things to eat is after all the best sort of celebration for this most American of days.

The dinner, which is served at noon, should be bountiful without being over rich or difficult to prepare.

Oyster or Fruit Cocktail
Turkey—Stuffed and Roasted
Cranberry Sauce
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Creamed Cauliflower
Pickled Watermelon Rind
Celery

Pumpkin Pie Cheese Balls
Coffee Fruit Nuts

For the table decoration nothing is more appropriate and attractive than a lovely silver dish or a basket filled with fruits and nuts. If the table is a long one, unshaded candles in severely plain candlesticks may be used to balance the center piece without obscuring the view.

After dinner the tendency to spend a dull and lifeless afternoon can be arrested by planning some outdoor activity. If there is ice and snow, a skating or toboggan party or even a brisk walk in the late afternoon will overcome the sluggishness which naturally follows a day indoors and a heavy meal. The exercise will revive some enthusiasm for food so that the light lunch of sandwiches, coffee and small cakes which is served for supper will be appreciated.

Directions for the preparation of the turkey and vegetables, as well as recipes for the pie and cakes for the afternoon are given below.

Roast Turkey

Single surface, remove pin feathers. Wash fowl thoroughly inside and out. Sprinkle both in and outside with salt. Fill cavity with dressing. Sew up opening with darning needle and stout thread or fasten with wire skewers. Rub outside of bird thoroughly with Crisco, dust well with flour. Fold wings back, catching tips under the body. Press the legs close to the body and tie in place. To keep ends of drumsticks from scorching before bird is done, wrap them in strips of cloth soaked in Crisco. Twenty-five to thirty minutes per pound should be allowed for roasting. The first part is done in hot oven 450° F. with cover off. After browning has started, the turkey should be basted with juice which has collected in pan and with fresh melted crisco. The cover is then placed over pan and roasting finished more slowly, 375° F. The turkey is tender enough when a fork pierces the meat easily. It may then be removed to platter and gravy may be made in the roasting pan. This is most easily done by stirring a thin paste of flour and water into juice already in the pan. Add hot water and boil down to desired consistency. Season well with salt and pepper and add finely chopped giblets. These should have been cooked separately in boiling water until tender.

White Sauce (Medium)
2 tablespoons Flour
2 tablespoons Crisco
1/2 teaspoonful Salt
Pepper
1 cupful Milk
Melt Crisco, stir flour in slowly and continue stirring while milk is added. Cook until the mixture thickens. Add salt and pepper.

Pumpkin Pie
Line the plate with pastry, building up the edges.
Filling:
2 Eggs
1 1/2 cupfuls strained Pumpkin
3/4 cupful Brown Sugar
1 teaspoonful Cinnamon
1/2 teaspoonful Salt
1 1/2 cupfuls Milk
1/2 teaspoonful Ginger
Mix sugar, ginger, cinnamon and salt together; then add pumpkin and mix thoroughly. Add eggs beaten light, then the milk. Fill the lined pie plate. Put into hot oven 400°. After 15 minutes, reduce heat to 325°. Bake until set—about one hour.

Stuffing for Turkey
2 quarts stale Bread Crumbs, finely crumbed
1/2 cup melted Crisco
1 tablespoonful Salt
1 tablespoonful White Pepper
1 tablespoonful Summer Savory
1 tablespoonful Sage
2 small Onions finely minced
Soak crumbs in cold water for a few minutes. Squeeze very dry and crumble thoroughly. Add melted Crisco and seasonings.

Candied Sweet Potatoes

4 Sweet Potatoes
Crisco
1 cupful Brown Sugar
1/2 cupful Water

Parboil the potatoes and boil until about half done. Drain and cut in lengthwise slices and lay in a shallow greased pan. Spread with Crisco and pour over syrup made of brown sugar and water. Bake in a moderate oven, basting frequently with the syrup until potatoes are transparent. It may be necessary to add more syrup during the baking. An hour or more is usually required to candy the potatoes well.

Creamed Cauliflower

Remove green leaves from cauliflower head. Break flower into sections and let stand in cold salted water for an hour. Remove pieces and cook in boiling water until tender (about 10 minutes).

Almond Cakes
1/2 cupful Crisco
1/2 cupful Sugar
4 Egg Yolks
1/2 cupful Milk
1/2 cupful Flour
1 1/2 teaspoonful Baking Powder
Shredded Almonds
Powdered Sugar
Cream Crisco, add sugar gradually, egg yolks well beaten, milk, and flour mixed with baking powder. Put in paper cases or tiny muffin pans, sprinkle with shredded almonds and powdered sugar. Bake 375°—20 minutes.

This photograph was taken in Washington, D. C., the day Mrs. Lansdowne testified before the army court martial hearing the charges against Col. William Mitchell. She declared that Capt. Paul Cutcherson novel for First National.

The romantic story of love and intrigue in a mythical kingdom in southern Europe has been "modernized" to the ideas of the new generation. It opened yesterday at the New Park theatre and is being shown again tonight and Sunday.

"Slow, did you ask?" repeated Miss Felicia Fawcett. "Listen, that guy is so slow that if he saw people in the street with umbrellas up he would be three years jumping to the conclusion that it was raining."

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Case of Bertha Peterson, Administratrix, vs Henry Tabert on Trial

Plaintiff Seeks $7,779 Damages For Death of Son in Auto Accident

The drawing of the jurors in district court in the case of Bertha Peterson, Administratrix vs Henry Tabert was completed about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The jurors drawn are Rudolph Keppers, Fred A. Hanson, Mrs. John Petraborg, Mrs. Elmer Forsberg, Robert Johnston, L. M. Magnuson, Carl Marohn, Rev. A. G. Patterson, Ed. Butterfield, George Lucas, George Hughes and W. M. Sullivan. This is an action in which the plaintiff asks $7,779 damages against the defendant for the death of her 11-year old son. Death resulted from injuries sustained when plaintiff's son was struck by defendant's car and thrown into a ditch while he was walking on a public highway near the village of Clearbrook. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney F. A. Grady of Crookston. He is assisted by Attorneys Swanson & Swanson of this city, Attorney M. A. Spooner of Bemidji appears for the defense.

This case will probably take two or more days to try. The first witness called yesterday was Henry Tabert, the defendant in the case. He was called by plaintiff's attorneys for cross examination under the statute. The next witness called was Mrs. Peterson, the plaintiff. There will be several witnesses called in behalf of the plaintiff.

SWEDISH BETHANY CHURCH

Evangelists F. Webster-Tyler And H. H. Ness to Speak Sunday Morning

The pulpit of the Swedish Bethany church will be occupied by Evangelists F. Webster-Tyler and H. H. Ness on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Ness is local pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly and Rev. Tyler, of New York, is holding a series of special meetings at the Assembly.

Both men are gifted speakers and have a message well worth hearing. A hearty invitation is extended all to take part in the service which will be in English.

It is hoped to have one of the evangelists at the Sunday school session at 9:45 for a short talk to the children.

Lost His Temper

The late customer returned to the photographer with the prints of the pictures he had taken.

"Do I look like this picture?" he stormed, shaking it in the photographer's face. "You've made me look like a monkey! Cock-eyed, and a chin like a bulldog. Do you call that a good likeness?"

"The answer is in the negative," sweetly replied the photographer. "Everybody's Magazine."

ANNUAL CARNIVAL AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

Parent-Teachers to Hold Same on Saturday, December 5th

Also a Rummage Sale—Big Show Starts at 7 O'clock in Evening

The Parent-Teachers of the Lincoln school, this city will hold their third annual carnival in the school house Saturday, December 5th. These carnivals in the past have been voted a great success, everyone attending enjoying themselves to the utmost, and it is hoped this year that everyone in Brainerd will get out and make this a bigger event than ever before.

In the afternoon at 2:30, the adies of the Parent-Teachers will hold a cook sale and telephone orders for these things may be given and they will be taken care of as promptly as possible. In addition to the cook sale in the afternoon, the ladies will also hold a rummage sale and they promise to have everything that a person could possibly ask for.

The big show will commence at 7 o'clock in the evening and as usual, there will be the main concert which is always very worth while. This will be held in the assembly room of the school. The committee has prepared a live and up to date program. The Lincoln minstrels are to be there and they will be remembered by all who saw them last year as a perfect scream. Then there will be a fish pond and grab bag, a real Paris hat shoppe, an up-to-date beauty shoppe where everyone will be transformed into a Mary Pickford or Rudolph Valentino, and lots of other things in the way of a good time. There will also be homemade candies and pop corn balls on sale, and the lunch committee is preparing for a real day.

All the committee asks is that you bear this date in mind and come and help make this the biggest carnival ever held. The proceeds of these festivals are used for the benefit of the children in the district and for general welfare work.

Picture From Magazine Said To Have Been Sent To Rhinelander By Negro Girl Wife He Is Suing

To Keep Friendships

"in Constant Repair"

Death and absence are not the only ways of losing friends. We grow away from people, and often this is sadder than going away from them. There are friends who pass and friends who remain. Few come with us all the way. Marie Stuart comments sadly in the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

With some we travel to the cross-road, and then, whether the farewell be conscious or unconscious, we turn in different directions. This does not prove disloyalty or failure on either side. We and they are in the grip of different tendencies, circumstances, social and spiritual laws. The currents of destiny bear us east and west.

We outgrow friendships as we outgrow clothes. (Marie Johnston said: "If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendships in constant repair.")

If one or two have grown with us and the years have welded us we are blessed indeed. "If we find but one to whom we can speak out our heart freely, with whom we can walk in love and simplicity, without dissimulation, we have no ground of quarrel with the world or God." One such friend in a lifetime, to journey with us all the way—what a treasure beyond compare!

I think that friendship between man and woman can only last when each brings to it fine qualities of mind and of heart. Friendship which is a mere cover for flirtation or an avenue providing a convenient approach to a proposal is only a pretense.

Men do not always want to make love to women. Many a man honestly wants a woman comrade—someone to talk to—someone, also, with a more understanding ear, and with more patience, than his brother man. And what a luxury it is to be ourselves, quite naturally, with just one human being!

I love the schoolboy definition of a friend—"one who knows all about you, and likes you just the same."

To be admitted to the friendship of a man or woman of true culture, largeness of vision and kindness is the greatest privilege on earth.

Radio in Japan

In Japan the outlook for the radio in the cities is not bright. The situation in the smaller towns is more promising. The pinch of depression is being felt by radio dealers and importers. Not a few have failed in the last two or three months. Most of these concerns were profiteering in the earlier days, and instead of proceeding conservatively, they speculated. Of the more than 2,000 dealers in radio receiving sets and accessories in Japan 50 per cent are in Tokyo. Import houses number about thirty. Japanese-made radio outfits are numerous, but those imported from America predominate. In Tokyo, it is estimated, there are at least 65,000 listeners in. The Tokyo broadcast station declares that only about 50,000 have registered and pay fees.

The salesman was doing his best to dispose of a motorcycle and side-car outfit, but the prospective customer hesitated. So the salesman enlarged upon the "pay-as-you-ride" plan of installments.

EVERY MAN ON THE MICHIGAN SQUAD IN PERFECT CONDITION

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—With clear, crisp weather and a moderately fast playing field in prospect the Michigan Wolverines and the Minnesota Gophers meet on Ferry Field here this afternoon to decide the western conference championship.

While the Yost men idled away final hours at Barton Hills Country club near here and Coach Spears put the visitors through final practice at Jackson, thousands of rabid Michigan and Minnesota partisans poured into An Arbor last night and today. A crowd of 48,000 is expected to pack the stands when the game starts at 2:30 P. M. eastern standard time.

Every man on the Michigan squad is reported in perfect condition for the game, although the Minnesota line-up is expected to suffer from the absence of Captain Ascher, Gary and Hyde, who are suffering from injuries.

The line-ups:
Michigan—Oosterbaan, le; Edwards, lt; Baer, lg; Brown, c; Lovett, rg; Hawkins, rt; Flora, re; Friedman, qb; Gilbert, lbh; Webber or Gregory, rhh; Molenda, fb.

Minnesota—Tuttle, le; Drill, lt; Hanson, lg; MacKinnon, c; Walsh, rg; Meili, rt; Wheeler, re; Arandsee, qb; Alquist, lbh; Murrell, rhh; Joesting, fb.

Officials—Referee, Nichols, Oberlin; Umpire, Young, Illinois; Field Judge, Keithley, Illinois; Head linesman, Gardiner, Illinois.

First Quarter—Michigan won the toss and chose to defend the west goal.

Alquist received Friedman's kick behind the goal line and brought it back 20 yards. Alquist made seven yards on two end runs. Alquist kicked to Gilbert on the Michigan 45 yard line. Molenda plunged three yards through center to the Gopher 41 yard line. Molenda carried the ball eight yards on two off tackle plunges. Friedman was thrown for a short loss on the Gopher 36 yard line. Friedman's attempted place kick went wild and the ball was returned to the Minnesota 20 yard line. Both Joesting and Alquist were stopped in attempts at tackle. Alquist made six yards on a long right end sprint. Michigan was penalized five yards for offside and it was first down for Minnesota on their own 32 yard line. Joesting made five yards through right guard and added four more off left tackle. Joesting then made it first down through center on the 42 yard line.

Two line plunges and an end run gained nothing for Minnesota. Murrell kicked high to Gilbert on Michigan's 35 yard line. Friedman was stopped by Meili for a two-yard loss. Friedman passed 30 yards to Oosterbaan and the ball was given to Michigan because of interference. Another pass, Friedman to Gilbert, put the ball on Minnesota's 25 yard line. Minnesota took time out for consultation. A pass by Friedman was grounded. On the next play Molenda dashed off right tackle for a touchdown. Friedman kicked goal for an extra point. Michigan 7; Minnesota, 0.

Gilbert kicked to Joesting on his five yard line and he returned 20 yards to Minnesota's 35 yard line. Flora threw Alquist for a five yard knock. Flora was knocked out on the play and time was called. Alquist made 7 off Michigan left end. He was slightly injured on the play and time was again taken out.

A long pass, Alquist to Wheeler, was grounded. Friedman returned Murrell's punt 23 yards through a broken field to the Michigan 37 yard line. Oosterbaan and Molenda collided in catching a 25 yard pass by Friedman and it was grounded. Gilbert bucked the line for 4 yards. Oosterbaan dropped another long pass from Friedman. Ascher replaced Arandsee for Minnesota. A Michigan punt put the ball over the Minnesota goal line. Ascher gained 3 yards through center. Baer threw Alquist for a 7 yard loss. Baer stopped Joesting without a gain. The quarter ended with the ball on the Gopher 20 yard line. Score—Michigan, 7; Minnesota, 0.

Second Quarter—Murrell punted to Friedman on the Michigan 35 yard line. Molenda gained two yards at center. Molenda put the ball on the Michigan 41 yard line. Cooper replaced MacKinnon for Minnesota. Gilbert punted to Minnesota's 46 yard line. Baer threw Murrell without gain on an attempted long end run. Alquist suffered a similar fate when he tried the left side of Michigan's line.

Murrell punted to Friedman who was stopped on Michigan 37 yard line. Minnesota was penalized 15 yards for interference. On a line buck by Molenda Michigan was penalized 15 yards for holding. The ball was returned to the Wolverine 34 yard line. Minnesota was penalized five yards for stalling. Gilbert ran through a broken field for 11 yards to the Wolverine 49 yard line. Meili was hurt on the play and replaced by Maeder for Minnesota. Gilbert

Dyed in the wool golfers simply will not give up their favorite game. To meet this situation the Around the World Golf Club was formed. Members of this unique organization sail from New York on the Empress of Scotland on December 3, and invitations to use their links have been extended to this party by golf clubs in France, Italy, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Java, Singapore, China and Japan. Captain R. G. Latta, skipper of the Empress of India and commander of the entire Canadian Pacific fleet, was born in Scotland and plays golf as a Scotsman plays the game. He has been elected president of the Around the World Golf Club.

bert took the ball to midfield on a short right end run. Gilbert punted to Alquist who was downed in his tracks by Edwards on the Gopher 17 yard line. Joesting made two through center. Alquist circled left end for 11, but was called back and Minnesota penalized five yards offside. Murrell punted from the 11 yard line to Gilbert who returned the ball 45 yards with a broken field run to the Minnesota 23 yard line. Molenda hit left end for seven. Molenda added 4 more through center. Friedman was thrown for a one yard loss on the Minnesota 16 yard line on an attempted left end run. Friedman attempted a goal kick but it was wide. The ball was Minnesota's on her 20 yard line. Brown stopped Joesting for no gain. Webber stopped Alquist at the line. Alquist lost one yard on attempted left end tackle. It was fourth down with the ball on Minnesota's 24 yard line. Murrell punted to Gilbert on Michigan's 40 yard line. Friedman gained 4 yards on left end tackle. Molenda carried the ball to his 45 yard line through left end.

Edwards made it first down around right end, where it was Michigan's ball on the Gopher 43 yard line. Cooper knocked Friedman's attempted pass down. Friedman lost three yards trying a left end run. Friedman passed 30 yards to Oosterbaan, who was downed on the Minnesota 23 yard line. Molenda made four at center. Gilbert ran 15 yards to Minnesota's one yard line, where Molenda carried the ball over on the next play. Friedman kicked goal for the extra point. Michigan 14; Minnesota, 0.

Gregory replaced Webber for Michigan. Oosterbaan intercepted a pass from Alquist and returned it 15 yards to the Minnesota 31 yard line. On a fake cross buck Friedman passed to Oosterbaan on the Minnesota 3 yard line, but Oosterbaan dropped the ball. The entire Minnesota team broke through and tackled Friedman as he attempted to pass just before the half ended. Score end first half, Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 0.

The final score was Michigan 35; Minnesota 0.

NORTH DAKOTA AND MARQUETTE

Milwaukee, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Confident almost to the extreme, the North Dakota team which meets the Marquette golden avalanche here this afternoon hadn't any doubt about winning.

After arriving here yesterday morning Coach Davis took his Dakotans out to the Marquette stadium and saw them go through a pep workout.

The field is in perfect condition for any kind of football, be it aerial, line plunging or wide end runs.

Coach Murray, although also confident his 11 men will turn back the invaders, is not making any further predictions and knows the Northerners will give the Marquettens a stiff fight.

NORTHWESTERN AND NOTRE DAME

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Conceded little more than a fighting chance, the Wildcats of Northwestern went into the Notre Dame game determined to repeat the upset they gave Michigan two weeks ago.

Coach Knute Rockne, remembering the scare furnished by Northwestern last year, when the Purple gave the Irish the toughest battle of the season, probably will start his regulars.

CHICAGO-WISCONSIN IN 29TH BATTLE

Chicago, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Without any title at stake but with both teams keyed to a high pitch by the traditional rivalry which started between them in 1894, Chicago and Wisconsin, lined up here today for their 29th battle.

Wisconsin is expected to employ a passing attack much the same as that which Dartmouth used so successfully last week against the Maroons.

Stagg is without several regulars who failed in some scholastic work.

In the 28 previous battles between the two teams, Chicago has won 13, Wisconsin 11 and 4 were tied.

INDIANA AND PURDUE GAME

Bloomington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—More than 25,000 people were in Bloomington today ready for the annual clash between the crimson clad grid warriors of Indiana and the black and gold uniformed outfit from Purdue.

In this game Indiana will dedicate its new stadium, erected as a memorial to the world war veterans of the university.

The teams also will start a tradition by playing for the "Old Oaken Bucket," a trophy, which it is hoped will rank with the famous Michigan-Minnesota jug in future years.

KANSAS AND MISSOURI U.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Swamped by a milling, cheering horde of rooters, Lawrence was the capital of footballdom today, so far as Missourians and Kansans are concerned, as the elevens of Kansas and Missouri universities prepared for the 34th annual battle this afternoon.

The Kansas squad is in top form and although betting odds favor the undefeated Missourians, the feeling here is that Kansas, with Huber back in the lineup, will be able to shatter all dope and ruin a so far glorious season for Missouri. The Kansans outweigh the Tigers both in the line and the backfield.

HUFFMAN, YOUNG GIANT FROM THE PACIFIC COAST, GOES EAST TO SHOW 'EM

Fight fans in the East have been hearing glowing reports of Eddie Huffman. The more enthusiastic of his admirers have not stopped short of predicting that the young Californian will be the next heavyweight champion of the world. This photograph was taken in New York while he was training for a bout with Jack De Mave, his first eastern appearance.

BIG FOOTBALL GAMES TODAY

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 21.—With the classic Yale-Harvard game topping the card, the finale of the 1925 football season started today. Most of the games on the card are traditional fixtures or easy games staged to prepare for the Thanksgiving finals.

With all its traditional color, the last of the Big Three battles between Yale and Harvard at Cambridge will be interesting only to the alumni of the two colleges and those neutrals who might find some pleasure in having lofty Harvard flopped again.

Unless all form goes wrong, it will be another Harvard flopping party with Yale taking great pleasure and keen delight in flopping Harvard again.

Harvard, despite all that may be said, never resigns itself to defeat, and the team will fight harder than it has fought in any other game because a victory over Yale would be a balm to the wounds of the Harvard alumni who have been crucified by looking at the season's record.

Yale has a great team, despite its defeat by Pennsylvania and unless there is a field under water, such as has become fashionable for recent Yale-Harvard games, Yale should win by a nifty score.

The Missouri Valley conference will have a number of annual fixtures of importance and great sectional interest.

Missouri and Kansas will play their annual game at Lawrence and Drake and Ames will do their annual act at Des Moines.

Nebraska, getting ready for the Thanksgiving game against Notre Dame will have a week-end of rest.

The Western conference will also be entertained by an interesting program on which Minnesota will play at Michigan, Wisconsin will play at Chicago, Ohio State will go to Illinois and Northwestern will visit Notre Dame. Michigan looks like a certain winner and Red Grange probably will extend himself to the limit in his last game as a college player.

Knute Rockne obviously thinks that work is a part of a football player's life because he passed up a chance to rest his team for the Nebraska game Thursday by booking Northwestern. The green young Notre Dame team developed so rapidly since being downed by the Army that it looks like a tight game.

Rockne said before the season started that his team probably would lose three games, and it was inferred that he meant the Army, Georgia Tech and Nebraska games. He did lose to the Army, but he beat Georgia Tech and Thursday's game remains to be seen.

Iowa, featuring an All-American candidate, Cowboy Kutsch, one of the great backs of the season, will carry the conference colors to the Pacific coast to play the University of Southern California. It will be an interesting game for no other reason than Howard Jones, Southern California coach will be trying to beat the team that he coached last year.

The big game on the Pacific coast, however, and one of the biggest spectacles of the day, will be staged at Palo Alto with the annual battle between California and Stanford. The competition in the coast conference has been so keen this season that this game may decide the championship.

There are few games of interest in the east. Syracuse and Columbia, which are to meet in New York next Thursday, have easy games to get them ready for what has become one of the most interesting games of the holiday. Syracuse meets Niagara and Columbia plays Alfred.

The Army takes a final tuning up for the Navy game, a week from tomorrow, by playing Ursinus, but the Navy, risking no chances of injury, remains idle for the day.

Pennsylvania, after a terrific schedule, has an off day to rest up for the Cornell game in Philadelphia Thanksgiving Day and Cornell also will be idle.

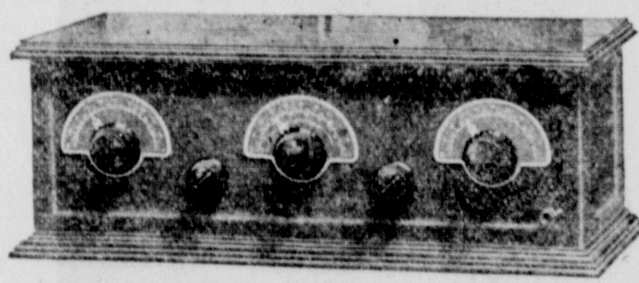

The South still clings to the Thanksgiving Day tradition for big games and all the major Southern teams will be idle for the day and will close the season on Thursday.

REPORT OF THE COUNTY AGENT

E. G. Roth Reviews Work Accomplished in the Past Year

AGRICULTURE FLOURISHING

Farm Bureau Lauded as Livestock Organization Farmer Can Belong To

At the meeting yesterday of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau, held in the court house in this city, County Agent E. G. Roth gave a full and complete, as well as interesting report of the work carried on in this county the past year. His report is as follows:

Agriculture in Crow Wing county, as in other counties of the state, has been shown to be a decidedly more profitable business than in preceding years and we are glad to see conditions in agriculture approaching normal in which a farmer can see his way through financially after a year's work.

To work out a program for the development of the county it is necessary to size up the county as to what is needed in its development. In the first place there is a necessity for the clearing of land on practically every farm, so that a farm may have enough acreage to keep employed the labor that he has.

In the second place Crow Wing county is primarily a dairy and poultry county and these two phases of agriculture have been given the most attention during the past year. First, for successful dairying the feed question is of most importance. Secondly, the stock that it has. In the raising of poultry, the feed and stock, in the same way, needs the most attention. In connection with this program, hired help, fertilizing, soil testing, culling, securing of sires and cattle all have received attention.

In following out this program, we have during the past year placed in the county at cost 60,000 pounds of explosive called Pyrotol, which saved the farmers of the county more than $12,000 alone, besides opening up a large quantity of land on which farmers, heretofore, have been paying taxes and receiving no return.

Alfalfa
The most far-reaching program in county agent work in the past year has been the developing of alfalfa. More than 2,000 acres of this kind of all hay crops was planted this year and has in almost every instance proved a decided success. Alfalfa, equal in food value to bran, solves the farmers' feed question to dairy cows. Seed at cost, true Grimm Alfalfa, was made available for the farmers. Grimm Alfalfa is so hardy that it readily winters through our cold season and yields from three to six tons of hay, even on our most sandy land.

This year, as in the past two years, we have shown by our demonstration field at Crow Wing and experimental fields throughout the county that where the land is sour, limestone or marl must be applied for successful growing of the crop. More than 350 samples of soil were tested to find out whether or not the land would grow alfalfa or clover successfully.

We have again carried on a number of experiments with fertilizers on peas, again demonstrating that potash and phosphates are necessary for successful crop growing on our peat land.

In dairying we helped place twelve purebred sires during the year and helped secure forty head of cattle. Six lectures were given on feeding and two on selecting the dairy cow.

Poultry
We believe that the biggest inducement for activity in poultry is the establishing of a good market. Having this in mind, we helped to establish the egg marketing association known as "The Lake Region Co-operative Egg & Poultry Association," to most points in the county, holding numerous meetings in the county for the purpose of explaining the organization and its work. Assistance was given in the Poultry show, at which time 350 birds were shown.

Pickle Station
We again signed up 185 acres of cucumbers for a pickle station at Brainerd, giving farmers the opportunity for a cash crop in the fall of the year which this year proved profitable to most of the farmers planting cucumbers.

Fairs
Assistance was given in the county fair and in a number of community fairs, Crosby, Pequot, and Brainerd. The county agent put on the county exhibit at the state fair where thousands of visitors were attracted to the booth.

The county agent has placed on farms in the county more than 200 hired men the past season. Farmers are finding it more and more to their advantage, when needing help, to call up the farm bureau office. Some times the men sent out prove no good, but in most cases have proved to be valuable hired hands.

Boys' And Girls' Club Work
One of the big items worked on in the past year was Boys' and Girls' club work in the county, which as a result of the boys and girls work in dairy calf, bread baking, garment making, poultry and potato, made a very successful record, exhibiting at fairs and local community fairs at Crosby, Brainerd and Pequot and at the state fair. Trips and prizes were given to twenty-three boys and girls for the short course in April at St. Paul, and trips to sixteen boys and girls to the state fair during state fair week. Two hundred and fifty boys and girls were enrolled for club work in the county.

farm visits, 88 home visits, spent 210 days in the field and 95 days in the office; 51 circular letters were written with a total circulation of 11,130 letters, 2,167 individual letters were written, 3,853 office calls were received, 2,308 telephone calls received and made, and 2,082 field calls were made, 88 extension articles written, 10,832 miles traveled, and 134 meetings attended with a total attendance of 16,964 people.

There is still a great deal of work to do to develop such a great county as we have here. There is great room for expansion, in agricultural resources, to make better that which we have. We need more farmers in the townships to clear up cut-over districts. We need stronger co-operation between those farmers that we have here. Our dairy cattle are still far below what they might be in comparison with dairy cattle of the dairy sections of the state. Thousands of acres are bringing no return whatever to the county or to the owners. We have thousands of acres of peat land that could scientifically be profitably brought under cultivation. Our poultry industry has not yet been brought to the standard to bring the highest returns. The number of sheep in the county is not what it should be. Our markets can still be improved. The grades of products that we market can be improved. It should be the goal of all of us here today to make better those things that we have and not be satisfied with what we have and let well enough alone, but make the best, better.

Join the farm bureau, the livestock booster organization that a farmer can belong to, to help get those things for farmers that make farming profitable, respectable and comfortable.

I wish to thank all of you for the support and co-operation that you have given me during the years I have been here and assure you that it has been a pleasure to serve you and will continue to do so to the best of my ability while I am with you.

"OLD IRONSIDES" SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Thursday a Day Long to be Remembered by All Pupils

"OLD IRONSIDES" RECITED

Letter of Pres. Coolidge Read, Elks of Brainerd Lodge Present Picture of Ship

When the boys and girls of every school in the city left their desks on Thursday afternoon, they took home with them a long story to tell about "Old Ironsides" and the program given in connection with the presentation of the picture. It was an event that will long be remembered by every pupil.

Following is a draft of the excellent program that was used in each school on Thursday:

Singing of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" by the school.

Welcome address given by the principal.

Helen Paine—High school.

Ross Olmsted—Whittier school.

Arden Miller—Lincoln school.

Fernand Fredrickson—Harrison school.

Bernard Shepard—Lowell school.

Hazel Forcier—Riverside school.

Jennie Fremsted—Garfield school.

Then there was the reading of the letter by President Coolidge to the secretary of the navy in which he gave the titles of the essays to be used in the Marion Eppley prize medal competition.

Selections of patriotic music given by the pupils of the school.

Reading, "Preamble of U. S. Constitution" by pupil.

And then came the most important part of the program—the presentation of "Old Ironsides" by an Elk from the Brainerd lodge. This movement was sponsored by the Elks of the county, they receiving the unframed pictures from the United States Navy. The Parent-Teachers associations of the city are responsible for the framing of the pictures. The Elks upon presenting the picture spoke of the significance and history of "Old Ironsides" and their unrelenting of it was met by many exclamations of surprise from the children.

Michael Mares presented the picture to the high school; James J. Nolan to the Lincoln and Riverside schools; Henry I. Cohen to the Whittier and Harrison schools; Attorney D. H. Fullerton to the Lowell school and Dr. A. K. Cohen, Exalted Ruler of the Elks presented the picture to the Garfield school. John J. Cummins will sometime in the near future present the picture to the Parochial school.

The judges have not yet decided the winner of the Eppley medal for the best essay; but according to Dr. A. K. Cohen this will be done soon.

TELEPHONE RATE RAISE IS SOUGHT

Order Served on City Clerk by Northwestern Bell Telephone Exchange Co.

State Railroad And Warehouse Association to Conduct Same at Court House

The following order was served on the city clerk of this city yesterday in which the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company ask to change and increase its rates for telephone exchange service of the Brainerd exchange. The hearing is set for 10 o'clock a. m. on the first day of December before the Railroad and Warehouse commission and will be held at the court house, in this city. "Whereas, the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company being a corporation, has filed an application with this commission for authority to change its rates for business, residence and rural telephone service within the city of Brainerd, county of Crow Wing, state of Minnesota, the proposed rates and charges being as follows to-wit:

	New rate	Old rate
Individual line, bus.....	$4.75-a	$3.50
Two-party line, bus.....	4.00-a	3.00
Individual line, res.....	2.75-a	2.00
Two-party line, res.....	2.25-a	1.75
Four-party line, res.....	2.00-a	1.50
Rural multi-party, res 2-25-a
Service station switch- ing charge	7.00 per year-3

(a) A discount of 25 per cent is allowed from this rate each month in which the subscriber's entire account, including any balance due, is paid on or before the 15th day of that month.

(b) Payable annually in advance. A discount of $1.00 is allowed from this annual charge if paid within the first month of the 12 months for which the bill is rendered."

What President Green of the A. F. of L. Says About 'Labor's Reward'

"I am confident that while viewing this picture men and women will find their feelings alternating between pity and indignation for the wrongs perpetrated upon these defenseless workers in the great industrial group and highest admiration for organized labor and its accomplishments in bringing protection and help into the homes and lives of the unfortunates. The story of the experiences of Mary and her sister and their father is not a story of isolated or extraordinary family experience. Every year there are hundreds of thousands of such cases throughout America."

"Labor's Reward" will be shown in Brainerd next Wednesday evening, November 25, at 8 o'clock, at Gardner's auditorium. The picture, which comes to Brainerd through the courtesy of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, has been well received in the twin cities where it was shown last week.

The exhibition of "Labor's Reward" is a part of the nation-wide educational campaign inaugurated by the American Federation of Labor. The general public is invited to see this great motion picture and get first hand information about the labor movement in America.

"SACRED, SECULAR, SAVAGE"

Indian Lecture to be Given on Sunday Night at Scandia Hall

The lectures at Scandia hall being continued every night except Tuesday will be especially favored on Sunday night, Nov. 22, by a visit from Prof. H. M. Hiatt, who will give a lecture on the Indians and their records, showing how their records and incidents corroborate Bible prophecy. In the early days he was a frontiersman, and so has many things of interest from Indian life. The lecture which he will give together with the lantern slides, illustrations, occupied a whole page of the Minneapolis Journal recently, and has also appeared in some of the other prominent papers of the state. There will be many more illustrations than it would be possible to get in a newspaper. A large crowd is expected so it will be necessary to come early to get a seat. All seats are free.

The following lectures of interest will be given during the week, and you will want to hear them as well.

Monday night—"The Fall of Babylon." Her sin and her seven plagues.

Wednesday night—"Restoring the Hole in the Wall." This is a remarkable prophecy.

Thursday night—"Where Are the Dead?" A question of interest to all.

Friday night—"What is the Soul?" Have you ever seen it?

Saturday night—"Hell? Where is it?" Will it last throughout the ceaseless ages of eternity?

Then don't miss the next Sunday night subject on "The United States in Prophecy." You will want to hear what the Bible says concerning it. There is special music every evening and also a fifteen minute song service. Come and help sing. You will enjoy it. This is a week of special interest.

DELEGATES GET THRILL FROM MEET

Brainerd Delegates Interested in "The Last Word" Presentation

The returning delegates from the seventh annual convention of the League of Women Voters are quite thrilled over the growth of that organization during the last year. Fourteen new, live leagues have been added in fourteen good towns, and the Duluth league has had a wonderful revival.

As the World Court is the particular piece of federal legislation that the league is interested in getting enacted during the coming winter, that subject was particularly stressed.

The world court exhibit was one of the best at the convention. An iridescent globe showed, at each revolution, the inscription: "Law not war," while a commercial airplane encircled the globe about once every half-minute, thus suggesting how small and closely bound together the modern world is. This exhibit was contributed by the Garretts chocolate company and was previously used as a show-window add for their products. At the end of the convention, it will be shipped to Ohio, to be used at their state convention.

The Brainerd delegates were also particularly interested in another exhibit in the lobby of the Saint Paul hotel—the ticket sale for "The Last Word" which is to be given at the Metropolitan theatre on December 5th. Delegates were urged to attend so that they might decide whether or not they cared to produce it in their home towns. Tickets were selling as high as $2.50. A Brainerd delegate suggested to the "Crier" that she say "If you can't come to Minneapolis, come to Brainerd on November 23, and you can see the play for the price of a picture show." But she didn't take kindly to the suggestion.

Whatever costumes Brainerd attics didn't furnish for the play, were arranged for at Giesens—the mecca of all amateur theatrical performers.

The Brainerd women in attendance at the convention and institute were: Mrs. E. O. Webb, Miss Genevieve Flannagan and Mrs. W. C. Cobb.

Surprise Party

Theodore Nesheim was pleasantly surprised at his home, 815 South Seventh street last evening by a number of friends and neighbors. Mr. Nesheim was presented with a beautiful gift.

The evening was spent informally and enjoyed by all, after which a delicious lunch was served.

CHAPTER XVIII

Rouletta Kirby was awakened by the sound of chopping; in the still, frosty morning the blows of the ax rang out loudly. For a moment she lay staring upward at the sloping roof over her head, studying with sleepy interest the frost-fringe formed by her breath during the night. This fringe was of intricate design; it resembled tatters of filmy lace and certain fragments of it hung down at least a foot, a warning that the day was to be extremely cold. But Rouletta needed no proof of that fact beyond the evidence of her nose, the tip of which was like ice and so stiff that she could barely wrinkle it. She covered it now with a warm palm and manipulated it gently, solitously.

The chopping abruptly ceased. "Poleon's voice greeted her gaily: "Bon jour, ma saeur! By golly! You gettin' be de mos' lazy gal! I spect you sleep all day only I mak' beeg noise."

"Good morning!" Rouletta's voice was muffled. As if repeating a lesson, she ran on: "Yes, I feel fine. I had a dandy sleep; didn't cough and my lungs don't hurt. And no bad dreams. So I want to get up. There! I'm well."

"O'h, I'm dying. And my nose—it won't work."

Doret shouted his laughter. "You wait, I mak' fire queeck an' cook de breakfast, den—you nose goin' work all right. I got beeg s'prise for dat!"

The top of Rouletta's head, her eyes, then her mouth, came cautiously out from hiding.

"What is it, Poleon? Something to eat?"

"Snap! What I tol' you? Every minute 'eat, eat!' You worse dan harney of Swede. I aint goin' tol' you wat is dis s'prise—bimeby you smell him cookin'!"

"Moose meat!" Rouletta cried.

"Not!" Poleon vigorously resumed his labor; every stroke of the ax was accompanied "Huh!" "I tol' you not'in!" he declared; then after a moment he voiced one word, "Caribou!"

Again Rouletta uttered a famished cry.

Soon the tent strings were drawn and the axman pushed through the door, his arms full of dry spruce wood. He stood smiling down at the face framed snugly in the fox fur; then he dropped his burden and knelt before the stove. In a moment there came a promising crackle, followed quickly by an agreeable flutter which grew into a roar as the stove began to draw.

"Caribou!" Rouletta's eyes were bright with curiosity and an emotion far more material. "Where in the world—?"

"Same hinjun hunter mak' beeg kill. I got more s'prise as dat, too. By golly! Dis goin' be regular Chris'mas for you!"

Rouletta stirred. There was stubborn defiance in her tone when she said: "I'm going to get up and I'm—going—outdoors—clothes or no clothes. I'll wrap the robe around me and play 'I'm a squaw.' She checked Poleon's protest. "Oh, I'm perfectly well, and the clothes I have are thick enough."

"Look out you don't freeze yourself. Dat pretty dress you got is give you chilblain in August." The speaker blew upon his fingers and sat back upon his heels, his eyes twinkling, his brown face wreathed in smiles.

"Then I can do it? You'll let me try?"

"Rouletta was all eagerness. "We'll talk 'bout dat bimeby. First t'ing we goin' have beeg pot-latch, lak Siwash weddin'."

"Goody! Now run away while I get up."

But the man shook his head. "Don't be sooch hurry. Dis tent warm slow. Las' night de reever is froze solid so far you look. Pretty queeck people come."

"Do you think they'll have extra clothes—something warm that I can wear?"

"Sure! I fix all dat." Still smiling, Poleon rose and went stooping out of the tent, tying the flaps behind him. A few rods distant was another shelter which he had pitched for himself; in front of it, on a pole provision-cache, were two quarters of frozen caribou meat, and seated comfortably in the snow beneath, eyes fixed upon the prize, were several "husky" dogs of unusual size.

At Poleon's appearance they began to caper and to fawn upon him.

"Ho, you ole t'left!" he cried, sternly. "You lak steal dose meat, I bet! Well, I eat you 'live." Stretching on tiptoe, he removed one of the quarters and bore it into his tent. The dogs gathered just outside the door, cautiously nosed the canvas aside, and as Poleon set to work with hatchet and hunting-knife their bright eyes followed his every move.

"Non!" he exclaimed, with a ferocious frown. "You don't get so much as I'll smell. You t'ink ma saeur goin' hongry to feed loafer lak you?" Bushy gray tails began to stir, the heads came farther forward, there was a most unmannerly licking of chops. "Gy gar! You sound lak miner-man eatin' soup. Wat for you s'pect nice grub? You don't work none." Poleon removed a layer of fat, divided it, and tossed a portion to each animal. The morsels vanished with a single gulp, with one wolfish click of sharp white teeth. "No, I give you not'in." (To be continued)

Champion Meets Champion

It was a case of champion meeting champion when Horace Lower, chosen as the best dairy calf club member in Kansas, came to the National Dairy Show at Indianapolis to meet Grahaholm Colantha Pauline Segis, the world's champion four-year-old milk and butter producer, who turned out 34,291 pounds of milk and 1,425 pounds of butterfat in a single year. The meeting of the two champions was made possible by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, which furnished the prize trip to Indianapolis for Lower. Lower is no mean dairyman, either. Last year his Kordyke Arthura Segis Lass produced 13,000 pounds of milk and 548 pounds of butterfat, making her the high production cow in the Kansas Cowtesting association.

STOCK UNDER PRESSURE AT WEEK END

New York, Nov. 21.—Stocks were under pressure at the week end following the action of the federal reserve bank at San Francisco in advancing the bank's rate from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent.

Heavy selling went ahead in the first half of the abbreviated session and prices among the speculative leaders were forced down to levels representing substantial recessions from the highs reached on the preceding upswing.

The downward movement was helped along by the confused testimony of the mercantile reviews regarding business conditions. Some said the readjustments did not result from any adverse trend in the commercial situation, declaring that continued progress was evident by current statistics.

Bradstreets, on the other hand, found irregularity and a slight let down in buying on the same lines due chiefly to weather conditions.

NORTHWEST FARMERS SALES MADE

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Northwest farmers have received $200,000,000 for grain and livestock marketed in the twin cities during the past three months, according to the Northwest National Bank review and government reports issued today.

The bank covers the period from August 1 to November 1. Grain drafts were issued here for a total of $165,000,000 during that time, the review declared.

At the same time government reports state that $35,000,000 has been paid to northwest livestock raisers from the market at South St. Paul. The average price per head for cattle was $45.

The total payments for cattle was $18,000,000, for hogs $14,000,000, for sheep $2,500,000, for calves $1,500,000.

There are other fights, too, with Rex attacking a wolf pack, and slaying a cougar about to leap on a sleeping man. Fred Jackman, who directed "The King of Wild Horses," which was a sensation, directed "Black Cyclone," which promises to be an even greater sensation.

Improvements were also reported in the dairying business.

The bank pointed out that the huge total for farmers has created an enormous potential purchasing power, liquidated debts and strengthened banks.

COTTON PRODUCTION

Washington, Nov. 21.—(UP)—A United States cotton production of 15,298,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was forecast by the United States agricultural department today on the basis of November 14 indications.

Last year the production was 13,627,936 bales, the highest in five years.

The Way It Works

Things hardly ever begin coming away until we've spent a good deal of time going after them.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having occurred in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 1st day of November, A. D. 1920, made, executed and delivered by H. L. Iverson and Anna Iverson, his wife, of the County of Hennepin, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, to William Musolf, of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, as mortgagee and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on the 8th day of November, A. D. 1920, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., and duly recorded in Book 21 of Mortgages, on page 513, which said mortgage was thereafter assigned by said William Musolf to Capital Trust & Savings Bank, Minnesota corporation, of St. Paul, Ramsey County, Minnesota, by an instrument in writing dated the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1921, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing County on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1921, at 4 o'clock P. M., and duly recorded in Book 21 of Mortgages, on page 557.

That Whereas, the default consists in the failure of said mortgagors to pay the principal and interest due November 1st, 1925, of the certain promissory note for which said mortgage was given as security, and there is due at the date of this notice the sum of Three Thousand and Hundred Ninety and 60/100 Dollars ($3,190.60).

And no action or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt of said mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of the Power of Sale in said mortgage contained, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the property described in said mortgage and located in Brown Wing County, Minnesota, to-wit: The Southeast quarter (SE¼) of Section Number Eight, (8) of Township Number One Hundred Thirty-six, (136) North of Range Twenty-seven, (27) West of the Fifth Principal Meridian in Crow Wing County, Minnesota, containing One Hundred and Eighty-seven (87) Acres, more or less, according to the U. S. Government survey thereof, together with all the privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, at Public Auction to be made by the Sheriff of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, at the main front door entrance of the House in the City of Brainerd, County of Crow Wing, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of January, A. D. 1926, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount which will be due under said mortgage on the date of sale, together with costs and disbursements of sale, including statutory attorney's fees, provided for in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure thereof, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale.

Dated November 21st, 1925. Capital Trust & Savings Bank, Assignee of Mortgagee. E. O. WIERGDAHL, Attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee, 100 Capital Bank Building, St. Paul, Minnesota. 1466Sat
